SEATO Chiefs Open Parley

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The SEATO Council of Ministers opened its third annual meeting today to intensify the eight-nation alliance's fight against Communist political and economic subversion in Southeast Asia.

Representatives of the United States, Australia, Britain, France, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan met in the green-carpeted House of Representatives chamber at Australia's Parliament Building for the three-day conference.

The council, top policy-making body of the alliance formed in 1954, was expected to:

1. Recommend that member nations keep their military forces up to present strength and intensify measures to safeguard their internal security.
2. Lay plans to keep free Asian nations from linking their economies closer to communism.
3. Initiate a multilateral cultural program to promote mutual understanding among members.

Korea Veterans Start Applying For Bonus Here

Forms Arrive At Veterans Center Ahead of Schedule

Korean war veterans here started making out their applications for their state bonus about an hour and a half ahead of schedule Monday.

The application forms, at the Veterans Service Center in Memorial Hall slated to arrive here at noon, were delivered by a state Highway Department and Highway Patrol team at 10:20 a. m.

Soon after that, representatives of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) posts in Washington C. H. and Jeffersonville, of Company M and the Ohio Employment Service were there to get some of the forms from Bernard Witherspoon, the county's veterans service officer, who is in charge of the program in Fayette County.

Forms will be available at all five of these places as well as at the Veterans Service Center.

Witherspoon said he understood that the Legion and VFW posts at Jeffersonville were working together under the supervision of Wayne Houseman, one of the leaders in both organizations.

THE FIRST application form in the county was handed to Robert Johnson, Route 6. Witherspoon said he "just happened" to be in the Veterans Service Center when the forms were delivered.

All told, enough forms were sent to Fayette County for 750 bonus applications—with some to spare.

Most of the applications are expected to be made through the Veterans Service Center here, although they are now available at the Legion-VFW at Jeffersonville, the Legion and VFW posts here, the Employment Service Office, 211 E. Market St., and the Armory at East and Fayette Sts.

Witherspoon said that at 12:30 p. m. only 25 forms had been given to veterans at the Service Center. This, he added, was "not nearly as many as I had expected."

Ward Miller, head of the Temporary Service office here, said only half a dozen forms had been handed out by him by 12:30 p. m.

SINCE THE state headquarters had announced the forms would not be delivered here until noon, the veterans were slower in going to the Legion and VFW posts and the Armory for their application forms.

Witherspoon explained that the four-page forms were provided for the veterans to fill out themselves, either at tables in the Service Center or at their homes. He added, however, that "we first explain the procedures and answer questions and will check them when they are filled out if they want us to."

Both Witherspoon and Miller said "a good many" of the veterans got the forms and took them home.

Witherspoon emphasized that the application for the bonus must be accompanied by the veterans' original separation, or discharge, papers.

The bonus is paid at the rate of $15 a month for foreign duty and $10 a month for domestic duty from June 25, 1925 to July 19, 1953.

Korea Veterans Keep Recorder, Assistants Busy

Veterans of the Korean conflict, preparing to make application for Ohio bonuses, are swamping the office of County Recorder Eloise Johnson with requests for the recording of service separation, or discharge, papers.

Ten were recorded Saturday. Usually the monthly total won't run any higher than that.

Preparation of certified copies is a time-consuming detail for the office staff which records the discharges without charge. The job requires about an hour.

And with oil leases still filtering into the recorder's office along with the usual variety of deeds, mortgages and other instruments, Mrs. Johnson and her assistants are hard-pressed to maintain the necessary pace.

Bernard Witherspoon, Fayette County veterans service officer, has emphasized that bonus applications must be accompanied by original separation papers, but he recommended that veterans be certain that the papers are properly recorded before they are sent out with applications.

Best advice is, of course, for veterans to record discharge papers as soon as they arrive home from service.

Northern Pacific Gets New Quakes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nervous northeastern rim of the Pacific continued to tremble Sunday night in the wake of Saturday's mighty earthquake in the Aleutian Islands.

The restless earth that sent tidal waves crashing into villages in Hawaii and Japan rumbled again at 10:20:23 p. m. EST.

The University of California seismograph at Berkeley was still registering the shock 2 1/2 hours later.

Research assistant John Denoyer said the new quake, apparently another vigorous aftershock of the Saturday quake, appeared again to be in the Aleutians.

Meanwhile, the Cast and Geodetic Survey office in Honolulu reported that Mt. Vsevidof on the Aleutian Island of Unmark was belching smoke after lying dormant for 200 years. Officials said it probably had been stirred to life by Saturday's big quake.

Arabs Uneasy In Gaza Strip

Return to Egyptian Control Demanded

GAZA (AP)—Unrest in the Gaza Strip still exists despite the Israeli withdrawal. U. N. forces had to use tear gas Sunday to disperse Arabs rioting for a return to Egyptian control.

A committee of Arabs claiming to represent more than 1,000 civil workers employed in the strip before the Israeli invasion said they would work only if Egypt approved the civil administration set up for the strip by the U. N. Emergency Force (UNEF).

The rioting stemmed from the temporary administrative setup headed by Danish Col. Carl Ingholm as military governor. He named a committee of five residents of Gaza City to supervise all civil affairs in the town itself.

Ingholm will preside over the council, Munir Rayess, Gaza mayor, or under the Egyptian administration who was held a political prisoner for 45 days during the Israeli occupation, was asked to serve. He declined, saying that the pre-invasion council objected.

There is strong feeling among the 310,000 residents of the strip, including some 215,000 Palestine Arab refugees, against even the appearance of international control in the strip.

ABOUT 300 ARABS stormed through the streets, waving banners and shouting for the return of Egyptian administration. When U. N. troops in vehicles herded the demonstrators down Gaza's main street and out of the center of town, the rioters began throwing stones.

The Arabs tried to smash the gates of the UNEF police headquarters. The U. N. troops, using tear gas and firing over the rioters' heads, forced them to disperse. The demonstrators made several unsuccessful efforts to reform their ranks.

No casualties were reported on either side.

After the outbreak, a curfew previously ordered for 6 p. m. was moved up to 1 p. m. Sound trucks drove through the streets ordering the population to obey, but the military police had difficulty in getting the Arabs to comply.

Jury Due To Get Case in Death of Greenfield Cabby

HILLSBORO (AP)—The trial of Robert Lee Curtis for first degree murder in the stabbing of a cab driver is expected to go to a common pleas jury today.

Final arguments by defense and prosecution were scheduled for this morning.

Defense attorneys completed their case Saturday without putting the defendant on the stand. Trial started last Monday.

Curtis is accused of stabbing to death Durward E. Perry, 51, Greenfield cab driver, in a robbery attempt last Dec. 8.

Common Pleas Judge Darrell Hottle admitted as evidence Friday a statement by Curtis admitting he stabbed Perry.

Panel Counsel Mum on Plans

'Number of Different' Outfits Said Involved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators plan to look into complaints of labor union racketeering in Ohio.

This was disclosed today by Robert F. Kennedy, counsel for the Senate committee now investigating labor racketeering in Portland, Ore.

"We've had enough complaints to justify sending investigators to Ohio," Kennedy said. "Just when they will go I can't say."

Asked whether the Ohio complaints concerned the Teamsters Union, now being investigated, Kennedy replied, "No, there are a number of different unions."

Kennedy declined to specify where in Ohio the committee investigators would go.

Meanwhile, Senate investigators prepared to subpoena Teamsters Union President Dave Beck and seize his financial records unless he agrees quickly to "be cooperative."

The teamster chief returned unheralded from Europe Sunday, dodged reporters in New York, refused to be interviewed in Chicago, and flew on to his home in Seattle.

Arriving there, Beck said "I don't think so" when he was asked by newsmen whether he would wait for a subpoena. He said he expected to go to Washington "very soon." Beck declined to answer any other questions.

Beck's Teamsters Union, the nation's biggest, has been the focus so far of a special Senate committee's search for evidence of racketeering influences in labor and industry.

For the last two weeks, the committee has received testimony that West Coast teamster officials were linked with underworld figures and some public office holders in efforts to take over vice and gambling operations in Portland, Ore. The hearings are in recess until Tuesday.

THE COMMITTEE has said it wants to question Beck about charges that union funds were used to pay some of his personal bills, and about the activities of some of his lieutenants.

Informed of Beck's return, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the investigating group, said:

"I just assume he (Beck) will get in touch with the committee now that he's back."

Other committee sources said a subpoena was being drafted to sum up Beck before the panel.

The hearings are to resume Tuesday with testimony from Clyde Cosby, Teamsters Union boss in Oregon, and William M. Langley, district attorney in Multnomah County. Both are under indictment.

$1 Billion Slash In Aid Fund Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California predicted today Congress will cut about $1 billion off President Eisenhower's $4.3 billion foreign aid request.

Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee backed this up with a forecast of "substantial cuts" in the economic assistance program.

Eisenhower told his news conference last week he doesn't believe any "substantial cuts" can be made in aid funds "and still support the welfare of the United States and the world."

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Real estate dealer Andrew R. Marino told police furs, jewelry and other valuable, worth $27,700 were missing, along with $2,680 in cash, after thieves broke into his home here Sunday night.

Seven Guns Left by Burglars When They Flee Denton Store

Police today were trying to figure out why burglars who broke into Denton's Appliance Store, Columbus Ave., left two automatic pistols and five revolvers behind.

Only some ammunition was missing from the store when it was checked by H. H. Denton, the proprietor, Sunday morning. All seven guns, which had been taken from their racks, were found by the rear window where the burglars had entered—and presumably left after being frightened.

The store was apparently broken into sometime Saturday night. Guns were all short-barreled weapons—not target equipment.

This was the second burglary in a month at the store. In the first one the robbers got only a small amount of petty cash.

Last fall burglars broke into the Denton Implement Store, about 100 yards east of the appliance store. The principal loss there was damage to the safe.

Robert Denton said he could not understand why burglars would break into the stores "because we never leave more than a little change in them."

Reopening of Suez Seen Coming Soon

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—U. N. salvage teams moved into position today for the job of removing the last two obstructions in the Suez Canal. If the Egyptians give an expected go ahead Tuesday, the obstructions can be cleared in less than a month, thus opening the canal to ships of maximum draft and tonnage almost a month ahead of schedule.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, who is in charge of the U. N. operations, expects a green light from the Egyptians at any moment to proceed with removal of the tug Edgar Bonnet and the Egyptian warship Abukir. Egyptian authorities have said unofficially the teams will be able to get to work Tuesday.

A big problem will be dredging. Most of the canal's dredging equipment has been lost. Since the canal was closed last November there has been little silting, but as soon as heavy ships start moving heavy silting will begin. Three dredgers are working now.

As canal clearance moved ahead, the political problems remained. President Nasser says he isn't sure whether he would abide by any World Court ruling which would permit Israeli ships to pass through the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba.

NASSER'S VIEWS appeared in a Cairo newspaper even as Israel announced she would ignore any World Court decisions on cases brought up by the Arab states. Israel's official gazette carried this statement over the signature of Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

The Nasser interview, which originally appeared in the Indian weekly Blitz, conflicted with earlier reports that Egypt would be willing to let the international tribunal decide whether the Tiran Strait and Gulf of Aqaba are international or territorial waters. Such a ruling would decide Israel's right to access to the south Israeli port of Eilat.

Egyptian officials have said flatly Israeli shipping will not be allowed through the Suez Canal because Egypt technically is still at war with Israel. The 1888 Suez Canal convention permits the country controlling the waterway to close it to enemies. Cairo's claim that the Tiran Strait is Egyptian territorial water may be tested soon.

Reliable sources in Jerusalem said three American tankers loaded with crude oil would sail through the Gulf to Eilat in April.

A showdown might come if Egyptian forces have returned to the U. N.-occupied gulf coast by then.

World Canal Grip Doubtful

West Sees Chance Dim Of Nasser Giving in

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western officials reportedly see little chance to block Egyptian President Nasser's drive for full operating control of the Suez Canal.

The future of the Suez, together with alternative means of transport, probably will rank high in the talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in Bermuda next week.

Nasser presumably is relying on Soviet backing to help him make secure the hold which he has been tightening on the Suez Canal since he seized it last July 26. The United States and many other free nations have been trying to keep some measure of operating control of the canal while conceding Egypt's ownership of it.

The newest Western move was a proposal that ships using the waterway pay tolls to the World Bank, United Nations or some other "neutral" agency. The agency in turn would pay 50 per cent of the collection to Egypt and hold the rest pending a final settlement of the claims arising out of Egypt's nationalization act.

NASSER'S REGIME gave its answer in a statement Saturday. Information Director Abdel Kader Hatem said Egypt would not accept "any such proposal" because "it violates Egypt's rights according to the 1888 convention on the Suez Canal." He added that from now on all Suez Canal tolls must be paid to Egyptian authorities.

The Western Powers have two principal bargaining points in addition to the less direct pressure of world opinion.

For one, the United States and Britain have frozen very substantial Egyptian assets under their control. Nasser wants them released but experts here doubt they will be a decisive factor.

The other is the fact that not only the nations of Western Europe but also those of South Asia and Africa and many of the Arab states themselves, have an interest in canal transport.

Ohio Reserve Bank Showing Increases

CLEVELAND (AP)—Federal Reserve member banks in the Fourth District had total resources of $15.3 billion last year, compared with 14 1/2 billion in 1955, President Wilbur D. Fulton of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland announced today.

Total earnings were $490 million in 1956 compared with $429 million the previous year, Fulton said in releasing the bank's annual statement of operating ratios of member banks in 1956.

Loans made by the banks increased $771 million last year and cash assets were $260 million higher, but holdings of U. S. government securities showed a decrease of $428 million, the statement said.

Indonesian Cabinet Planning To Quit as Revolt Grows

JAKARTA (AP)—The government of Indonesia, beset by a rash of bloodless rebellions and a financial crisis, has decided to resign on Wednesday.

Informants report the decision was made after a meeting of the five parties which make up Premier Ali Sastraamidjojo's coalition government.

South Sumatra joined the spreading revolt Saturday, when a revolutionary council withdrew its support from the central government. Lt. Col. Barlian, another of Indonesia's restless young army leaders, blasted the Sastraamidjojo government as being "slow" and "incompetent." The Sastraamidjojo - appointed governor fled to Java, it was reported.

Dissatisfied political and military leaders in Borneo, the world's third largest island and the least explored of the 3,000 in Indonesia, were reported considering similar action.

Korea Veterans Start Applying For Bonus Here

Forms Arrive At Veterans Center Ahead of Schedule

Korean war veterans here started making out their applications for their state bonus about an hour and a half ahead of schedule Monday.

The application forms, at the Veterans Service Center in Memorial Hall slated to arrive here at noon, were delivered by a state Highway Department and Highway Patrol team at 10:20 a. m.

Soon after that, representatives of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) posts in Washington C. H. and Jeffersonville, of Company M and the Ohio Employment Service were there to get some of the forms from Bernard Witherspoon, the county's veterans service officer, who is in charge of the program in Fayette County.

Forms will be available at all five of these places as well as at the Veterans Service Center.

Witherspoon said he understood that the Legion and VFW posts at Jeffersonville were working together under the supervision of Wayne Houseman, one of the leaders in both organizations.

THE FIRST application form in the county was handed to Robert Johnson, Route 6. Witherspoon said he "just happened" to be in the Veterans Service Center when the forms were delivered.

All told, enough forms were sent to Fayette County for 750 bonus applications—with some to spare.

Most of the applications are expected to be made through the Veterans Service Center here, although they are now available at the Legion-VFW at Jeffersonville, the Legion and VFW posts here, the Employment Service Office, 211 E. Market St., and the Army at East and Fayette Sts.

Witherspoon said that at 12:30 p. m. only 25 forms had been given to veterans at the Service Center. This, he added, was "not nearly as many as I had expected."

Ward Miller, head of the Temporary Service office here, said only half a dozen forms had been handed out by him by 12:30 p. m.

SINCE the state headquarters had announced the forms would not be delivered here until noon, the veterans were slower in going to the Legion and VFW posts and the Army for their application forms.

Witherspoon explained that the four-page forms were provided for the veterans to fill out themselves, either at tables in the Service Center or at their homes. He added, however, that "we first explain the procedures and answer questions and will check them when they are filled out if they want us to."

Bother Witherspoon and Miller said "a good many" of the veterans got the forms and took them home.

Witherspoon emphasized that the application for the bonus must be accompanied by the veterans' original separation, or discharge, papers.

The bonus is paid at the rate of $15 a month for foreign duty and $10 a month for domestic duty from June 25, 1925 to July 19, 1953.

Arabs Uneasy In Gaza Strip

Return to Egyptian Control Demanded

GAZA (AP)—Unrest in the Gaza Strip still exists despite the Israeli withdrawal. U. N. forces had to use tear gas Sunday to disperse Arabs rioting for a return to Egyptian control.

A committee of Arabs claiming to represent more than 1,000 civil workers employed in the strip before the Israeli invasion said they would work only if Egypt approved the civil administration set up for the strip by the U. N. Emergency Force (UNEF).

The rioting stemmed from the temporary administrative setup headed by Danish Col. Carl Ingolm as military governor. He named a committee of five residents of Gaza City to supervise all civil affairs in the town itself.

Ingolm will preside over the committee, Munir Rayess, Gaza mayor under the Egyptian administration who was held a political prisoner for 45 days during the Israeli occupation, was asked to serve. He declined, saying that the pre-invasion council objected.

There is strong feeling among the 310,000 residents of the strip, including some 215,000 Palestine Arab refugees, against even the appearance of international control in the strip.

ABOUT 300 ARABS stormed through the streets, waving banners and shouting for the return of Egyptian administration. When U. N. troops in vehicles herded the demonstrators down Gaza's main street and out of the center of town, the rioters began throwing stones.

The Arabs tried to smash the gates of the UNEF police headquarters. The U. N. troops, using tear gas and firing over the rioters' heads, forced them to disperse. The demonstrators made several unsuccessful efforts to reform their ranks.

No casualties were reported on either side.

After the outbreak, a curfew previously ordered for 6 p. m. was moved up to 1 p. m. Sound trucks drove through the streets ordering the population to obey, but the military police had difficulty in getting the Arabs to comply.

A police official said Volos itself suffered little damage but that the few buildings in nearby Velestino which survived last week's heavy shocks collapsed.

No new casualties were reported.

Quakes that hit the area Friday and Saturday left 1 known dead, at least 50 injured, and 25,000 homeless. About 4,000 homes were destroyed.

$1 Billion Slash In Aid Fund Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California predicted today Congress will cut about $1 billion off President Eisenhower's $4.3 billion foreign aid request.

Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee backed this up with a forecast of "substantial cuts" in the economic assistance program.

Eisenhower told his news conference last week he doesn't believe any "substantial cuts" can be made in aid funds "and still support the welfare of the United States and the world."

Seven Guns Left by Burglars When They Flee Denton Store

Police today were trying to figure out why burglars who broke into Denton's Appliance Store, Columbus Ave., left two automatic pistols and five revolvers behind.

Only some ammunition was missing from the store when it was checked by H. H. Denton, the proprietor, Sunday morning. All seven guns, which had been taken from their racks, were found by the rear window where the burglars had entered—and presumably left after being frightened.

The store was apparently broken en into sometime Saturday night. Guns were all short-barreled weapons—not target equipment.

This was the second burglary in a month at the store. In the first one the robbers got only a small amount of petty cash.

Last fall burglars broke into the Denton Implement Store, about 100 yards east of the appliance store. The principal loss there was damage to the safe.

Robert Denton said he could not understand why burglars would break into the stores "because we never leave more than a little change in them."

Reopening of Suez Seen Coming Soon

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—U. N. salvage teams moved into position today for the job of removing the last two obstructions in the Suez Canal.

If the Egyptians give an expected go ahead Tuesday, the obstructions can be cleared in less than a month, thus opening the canal to ships of maximum draft and tonnage almost a month ahead of schedule.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, who is in charge of the U. N. operations, expects a green light from the Egyptians at any moment to proceed with removal of the tug Edgar Bonnet and the Egyptian warship Abukir.

Egyptian authorities have said unofficially the teams will be able to get to work Tuesday.

A big problem will be dredging. Most of the canal's dredging equipment has been lost. Since the canal was closed last November there has been little silt, but as soon as heavy ships start moving heavy silt will begin. Three dredgers are working now.

As canal clearance moved ahead, the political problems remained. President Nasser says he isn't sure whether he would abide by any World Court ruling which would permit Israeli ships to pass through the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba.

NASSER'S VIEWS appeared in a Cairo newspaper even as Israel announced she would ignore any World Court decisions on cases brought up by the Arab states.

Israel's official gazette carried this statement over the signature of Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

The Nasser interview, which originally appeared in the Indian weekly Blitz, conflicted with earlier reports that Egypt would be willing to let the international tribunal decide whether the Tiran Strait and Gulf of Aqaba are international or territorial waters.

Such a ruling would decide Israel's right to access to the south Israeli port of Eilat.

Egyptian officials have said flatly Israeli shipping will not be allowed through the Suez Canal because Egypt technically is still at war with Israel.

The 1888 Suez Canal convention permits the country controlling the waterway to close it to enemies.

Cairo's claim that the Tiran Strait is Egyptian territorial water may be tested soon.

Reliable sources in Jerusalem said three American tankers loaded with crude oil would sail through the Gulf to Eilat in April.

A showdown might come if Egyptian forces have returned to the U.N.-occupied gulf coast by then.

World Canal Grip Doubt

West Sees Chance Dim Of Nasser Giving in

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western officials reportedly see little chance to block Egyptian President Nasser's drive for full operating control of the Suez Canal.

The future of the Suez, together with alternative means of transport, probably will rank high in the talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in Bermuda next week.

Nasser presumably is relying on Soviet backing to help him make secure the hold which he has been tightening on the Suez Canal since he seized it last July 26. The United States and many other free nations have been trying to keep some measure of operating control of the canal while conceding Egypt's ownership of it.

The newest Western move was a proposal that ships using the waterway pay tolls to the World Bank, United Nations or some other "neutral" agency. The agency in turn would pay 50 per cent of the collection to Egypt and hold the rest pending a final settlement of the claims arising out of Egypt's nationalization act.

NASSER'S REGIME gave its answer in a statement Saturday. Information Director Abdel Kader Hatem said Egypt would not accept "any such proposal" because "it violates Egypt's rights according to the 1888 convention on the Suez Canal."

He added that from now on all Suez Canal tolls must be paid to Egyptian authorities.

The Western Powers have two principal bargaining points in addition to the less direct pressure of world opinion.

For one, the United States and Britain have frozen very substantial Egyptian assets under their control. Nasser wants them released but experts here doubt they will be a decisive factor.

The other is the fact that not only the nations of Western Europe but also those of South Asia and Africa and many of the Arab states themselves, have an interest in canal transport.

Ohio Reserve Bank Showing Increases

Telephone Repair Crews Keep Busy In Scioto County

PORTSMOUTH — Thirty-one crews of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. are still at work repairing cables in an effort to fully restore telephone service to Scioto County.

Since the recent end of the strike against the company by the Communications Workers of America, workmen have been repairing cables slashed during the long period of labor strife.

Thus far, about 25 per cent of the 17,000 telephones in the city and county have been restored to full service. With the many crews at work repairing the cables, company officials hoped a higher percentage of phones can be in service by the end of the week.

Government Aide Explains Job of His 'Generalists'

WASHINGTON — Don't let the fellow at the next desk look down his nose at you because he's a specialist. Tell him you're a generalist.

The word saw the light at House Appropriation Committee hearings on the civil defense budget. The proceedings show that Admin-istrator Val Peterson was asked what was meant by the listing of generalists on his staff.

"Is this a superspecialist?" asked Rep. Yates (D-Ill.).

"No," Peterson replied. "This is a man who is jack of all trades. He can go out and do business in most of those fields."

Said Rep. Thomas (D-Tex): "We are all 'qualify'."

Tourists Spark Jewelry Boom

Tortoise Shell Used
For Popular Pieces

NASSAU, Bahamas — The tortoise shell jewelry and accessory industry, almost dormant for years, is now coming back to life as tourists look with renewed interest for souvenirs to take home.

Making tortoise shell items such as combs, cuff links, the clips, buttons, bracelets, necklaces, brooches, rings, pins, purses and flexible watch bands re-quires both skill and patience.

There is an art to producing the glistening brown and golden yellow surfaces, and finding and fashion-ing matching pieces.

Tortoise shell, rarely as much as a quarter inch thick, is put through a laminating process us-ing a combination of heat and pres-sure to blend several thin sheets together into a workable and last-ing thickness.

It requires many tons of hydrau-lic pressure to laminate tortoise shell to the proper thickness for a compact or cigarette case.

TEN STEPS are necessary in the manufacture of tortoise handicrafts and each artisan has a separate part in the industry now flourish-ing on Nassau's Bay Street.

The hawkbill turtle is prized for attractive and durable tortoise shell. It usually has 13 plate — like large scales — on its back and 24 small bordering or fringe plates called "chimes." The four center plates, two on each side, have uni-form thickness and are best for most tortoise shell items.

At the factory, the tortoise shell is scraped, marked out, cut, filed, sanded, polished, hand en-graved, molded, given a final polish and assembled into the fin-ished product.

A workman assigned to letters chooses either old English or block letters and traces one letter at a time from a metal pattern on a natural tortoise shell plate. He uses a jeweler's saw to cut out the let-ters and often must drill a tiny hole to insert the saw.

The cutting of earrings, figured pins, bracelets and other items is slightly different. In many instances the design in the tortoise shell must match another piece. For ex-ample, a fish earring with a light streak running through its fin must have a matching earring with a similar streak.

New Bride Wears Ring on Right Hand

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Mrs. Charles M. Blalack, the pretty newlywed, wears that shiny ring on her right hand.

She's the former Boni Buehler, 27, the onetime airline stewardess who lost her left arm and leg in a 1953 speedboat accident.

Boni and Blalack, 29, a San Marino, Calif., investment broker and social figure, were married here Saturday in the climax to an eight-month romance. They met on a blind date.

Boni walked down the aisle on an artificial leg. A cape on her dress hid the missing arm.

Toledo Woman, 42, Held in Poisoning

TOLEDO — A 42-year-old housewife has been charged with administering poison to her husband and her daughter.

Detectives said Mrs. Ruth Underwater admitted she put strychnine into a carton of milk. She said, "I really didn't want to kill them. I didn't intend for my daughter to get any of it at all."

Police tested the milk after Mrs. Underwater's husband, Joseph, 60, her daughter, Mrs. Judy Miles, 22, and Clifford Lybarger, 50, care-taker of the apartment building where she lives, became ill.

Opportunity For Women As Engineers

WINDSOR LOCKS, Conn. — Wanted: more women engineers.

College girls in search of careers would do well to consider the slide-rule, says Rose Worobel, a pioneer of 14 years standing in the Hamil-ton Standard Division of United Aircraft Corp. here.

It was a rough road in the beginning, says Rose, but today's girl engineers will find the way smoothed for them with a pros-pect of equal opportunities with men.

"When women first went into in-dustry as engineers, we had to do a better job than the men, and even cater to them a bit," says Rose. "Now women are accepted as a matter of course, and the future holds great opportunities."

MISS WOROBEL started her en-gineering career in 1943, after graduation from Bates College and a six-month course at Penn State University. At this time women were getting their first chance to break into the engineering ranks, because of the shortage of male engineers during the war.

She now holds down the import-ant post of technical supervisor, coordinating work and conducting performance calculations on prop-ellor, as well as working on de-signs for propeller blades.

She works closely with some 50 men engineers daily on ideas for equipment for tomorrow's air-planes.

At present Rose is midway through a three-year night course at Rensselaer Polytechnic In-stitute's Graduate School to earn her master's degree in engineering.

Du Pont Sales, Earnings Exceeded Only by '55

EDITOR'S NOTE: —The Du Pont Company purchased a 67-acre tract four miles northwest of Washington C. H. last October, announced that it plans to build a plant for the manufacture of automobile paint. There has not yet been an announcement as to whether the company plans to build on the site this Spring.

WILMINGTON, Del.—Sales earnings, and dividends of the Du Pont Company in 1956 were the second highest in the company's history, exceeded only the record highs established in 1955, Crawford H. Greenwalt, president, disclosed Saturday in his annual report to the more than 168,000 stockholders.

Sales were $1,888 million, or one per cent lower than in 1955, while physical volume of sales was about three per cent higher. For the fourth quarter of 1956, sales were at an all-time high of $495 million.

Reduction of selling prices of some products and increased costs resulted in a lower profit margin. Net earnings from operations decreased 13 per cent from 1955 due to higher operating expenses and lower dollar sales, while average operating investment was seven per cent greater than in 1955.

AS A RESULT, net earnings from operations as a percentage of operating investment declined from 13.8 per cent in 1955 to 11.3 per cent. Earnings for 1956, as previously announced, were $8.20 per share of common stock, including $2.55 from General Motors dividends, as compared with $9.26 in 1955, including $2.75 from General Motors.

Average gross operating investment was $2,252 million for 1956, an increase of $140 million. Operating investment per employee was $26,200, an increase of $1,000 during the year. The company spent $157 million during the year to improve and expand existing plants and laboratories and to build new ones, compared with $119 million spent in 1955. Four new plants began operation during the last quarter of 1956, providing additional manufacturing capacity for neoprene synthetic rubber, sulfuric acid, finishes, and "Freon" refrigerants.

"A major problem confronting Du Pont, as it does other industrial concerns," the report said, "is that of arriving at competitive selling prices which are satisfactory to customers and thus contribute to steadily expanding markets and which at the same time yield a reasonable return on investment."

"This problem has become particularly acute during the past year due to steadily rising manufacturing costs in a highly competitive market."

POINTING OUT that, among the major items of cost, the most striking increase has been in the company's average weekly wage, which has risen sharply, the Du Pont chief executive noted that at year end, this item was about 18 per cent higher than in 1953.

Meanwhile the market price index of major raw materials purchased by the company after declining in 1954 and 1955, had risen in 1956 to about the 1953 level, and the U. S. industrial price index had increased seven per cent. In contrast, Du Pont's sales price index has declined each year since 1953 and was about six per cent lower in 1956 than in 1953.

"Traditionally, the Du Pont Company seeks to reduce, rather than increase, its selling prices in order to widen markets," Greenwalt said. "Enlarged markets are usually opened after each successive price reduction with over-all benefit both to customers and to stockholders."

"However, when higher costs cannot be absorbed by greater production or by improved technology, a reasonable return on investment can be maintained only by increases in sales prices, if competitive conditions permit."

The report noted that total sales of the company's textile fibers, measured in physical volume and in dollars, had decreased in 1956, though quantity sales of nylon, "Orlon" acrylic fiber, and "Dacron" polyester fiber had all increased, reflecting an industry trend to the newer synthetics. However, the increases did not fully offset reduced shipments of rayon and acetate.

THE DECREASE in dollar sales resulted from price reductions on the newer fibers, "which are expected to expand their markets in the years ahead." Additional manufacturing capacity for all three is

Suez Reopening Due To Revive Old Problems

Action in Syrian Oilfields also To Bring New Troubles

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Reopening of the Suez Canal and the oil pipelines across Syria will also reopen some old problems and intensify some new ones.

1. It will enlarge the question mark tied to the hike in gasoline and fuel oil prices and make the chance of price wars this summer more of a bogeyman for the oil industry.
2. It will fan the fight over importing sizable quantities of oil into the United States.
3. It will reshuffle oil tanker routes around the world.
4. It will test whether all that Europe needs to extend its industrial boom is less costly oil than the American variety.

Oilmen say return of Mideast oil to Europe in volume isn't likely to change:

1. The desire to become as independent as possible of any future closure of the canal and to look for other pipeline routes for the same reason.
2. Plans to step up atomic energy programs in Europe.
3. Long-term plans of American companies to invest still more in Mideast oil production in spite of increased tensions.

4. The race to build up world tanker fleets—especially the giant vessels that can carry oil around Africa or South America as economically as the small ones do through the Suez or Panama canals.
The National Petroleum Council, set up to advise the Interior Department, reports that so far this year nine million deadweight tons of additional tanker capacity have been ordered, bringing to 38 million tons the amount now projected. It figures the world's shipyard tanker capacity is now fully booked through 1961. If all the other vessels talked about turn into blueprints, the yards would be busy through 1964.

The fight over the size of oil imports into the United States has boiled up again.

Ohio-Wanted Kidnapers Held In California

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Police here held 53-year-old Robert Haine Hemming today charged with suspicion of kidnaping an 8-year-old boy.

Hemming told police he was once accused of kidnaping the daughter of an Ohio State University professor and had been released from Ohio State Penitentiary last Dec. 28 after serving 10 years for passing bad checks. He said he was not prosecuted on the Ohio kidnaping charge.

The boy, Larry Allen Olsen, was found running down U.S. 101 early Sunday. He had been missing since shortly before noon Saturday when a playmate said he left an ocean beach with the man.

Police said Hemming admitted he was arrested on a charge of kidnaping the Ohio State co-ed New Year's Day 1947 but insisted he was not prosecuted on the charge.

Columbus newspaper files indicated Hemming was charged in a grand jury indictment with kidnaping Mary Virginia Kimberly, 20, and with passing bad checks. He was convicted and sent to prison on the check charge.

Police said the Olsen boy told them Hemming bought him ice cream and gave him wine to drink. He spent Saturday night at a motel with Hemming and was then taken by the man to a place on the highway and released to go home, police said.

Police said Hemming insisted he had not molested or harmed the boy. They said the boy said the same.

'Poison Gas' Scare Ends in South Point

SOUTH POINT, Ohio (AP)—The "poison gas" scare in this section of the Ohio Valley is over.

Clouds of pungent fumes from a fire at the Atmospheric Nitrogen Co. here spread for miles over parts of Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky Saturday, causing residents to evacuate or prepare for evacuation as early reports indicated the fumes were mildly poisonous. The fumes came from a burning pile of some 45,000 tons of chemical fertilizer.

Plant chemists said later, however, that although the fumes contained chlorine and oxides of nitrogen, they were not strong enough to damage either lives or property.

By Sunday, the fumes had completely disappeared, the state highway patrol said, and the fire had been extinguished, although firemen were still pouring water in the concrete building that housed the fertilizer. Those who had evacuated were back in their homes, the patrol said.

Patrolmen said sight-seers arrived in a steady stream at the plant Sunday, occasionally creating traffic jams on nearby highways.

Patrolmen said no one was injured and no one required medical treatment for exposure to the fumes.

Chief John Gallagher of the Huntington, W. Va., fire department, which helped fight the blaze, said the loss probably would amount to "several million dollars." However, company officials

Du Pont Sales, Earnings Exceeded Only by '55

EDITOR'S NOTE: —The Du Pont Company purchased a 67-acre tract four miles northwest of Washington C. H. last October, announced that it plans to build a plant for the manufacture of automobile paint. There has not yet been an announcement as to whether the company plans to build on the site this Spring.

WILMINGTON, Del.—Sales earnings, and dividends of the Du Pont Company in 1956 were the second highest in the company's history, exceeded only by the record highs established in 1955, Crawford H. Greenwalt, president, disclosed Saturday in his annual report to the more than 168,000 stockholders.

Sales were $1,888 million, or one per cent lower than in 1955, while physical volume of sales was about three per cent higher. For the fourth quarter of 1956, sales were at an all-time high of $495 million.

Reduction of selling prices of some products and increased costs resulted in a lower profit margin. Net earnings from operations decreased 13 per cent from 1955 due to higher operating expenses and lower dollar sales, while average operating investment was seven per cent greater than in 1955.

AS A RESULT, net earnings from operations as a percentage of operating investment declined from 13.8 per cent in 1955 to 11.3 per cent. Earnings for 1956, as previously announced, were $8.20 per share of common stock, including $2.55 from General Motors dividends, as compared with $9.26 in 1955, including $2.75 from General Motors.

Average gross operating investment was $2,252 million for 1956, an increase of $140 million. Operating investment per employee was $25,200, an increase of $1,000 during the year. The company spent $157 million during the year to improve and expand existing plants and laboratories and to build new ones, compared with $119 million spent in 1955. Four new plants began operation during the last quarter of year, providing additional manufacturing capacity for neoprene synthetic rubber, sulfuric acid, finishes, and "Freon" refrigerants.

"A major problem confronting Du Pont, as it does other industrial concerns," the report said, "is that of arriving at competitive selling prices which are satisfactory to customers and thus contribute to steadily expanding markets and which at the same time yield a reasonable return on investment."

"This problem has become particularly acute during the past year due to steadily rising manufacturing costs in a highly competitive market."

POINTING OUT that, among the major items of cost, the most striking increase has been in the company's average weekly wage, which has risen sharply, the Du Pont chief executive noted that at year end, this item was about 18 per cent higher than in 1953.

Meanwhile the market price index of major raw materials purchased by the company, after declining in 1954 and 1955, had risen in 1956 to about the 1953 level, and the U. S. industrial price index had increased seven per cent. In contrast, Du Pont's sales price index has declined each year since 1953 and was about six per cent lower in 1956 than in 1953.

"Traditionally, the Du Pont Company seeks to reduce, rather than increase, its selling prices in order to widen markets," Greenwalt said. "Enlarged markets are usually opened after each successive price reduction with over-all benefit both to customers and to stockholders."

"However, when higher costs cannot be absorbed by greater production or by improved technology, a reasonable return on investment can be maintained only by increases in sales prices, if competitive conditions permit."

The report noted that total sales of the company's textile fibers, measured in physical volume and in dollars, had decreased in 1956, though quantity sales of nylon, "Orlon" acrylic fiber, and "Dacron" polyester fiber had all increased, reflecting an industry trend to the newer synthetics. However, the increases did not fully offset reduced shipments of rayon and acetate.

THE DECREASE in dollar sales resulted from price reductions on the newer fibers, "which are expected to expand their markets in the years ahead." Additional manufacturing capacity for all three is under construction. Because of the special properties of the fibers, each new application of the fibers, the report points out, presents special technical problems to the firms which buy and process them. As a result, much sales effort is directed toward the solution of these problems, two modern laboratories now being devoted to this work.

The report disclosed that additional high energy radiation facilities are being constructed at the Experimental Station near the company's headquarters in Wilmington to complement a two-million-electron-volt generator now being used to explore effects of radiation on chemical reactions in fields of interest to Du Pont.

The company spent $77 million on research and development during the year, not including laboratory construction and technical assistance to sales and production. Approximately 2,200 technical people were engaged in research work.

THE NUMBER of Du Pont employees at the year end, excluding 12,775 at government-owned plants, was 89,083 compared with 89,111 on December 31, 1955. Wages, salaries, and employee benefits for all employees, not including those at government-owned plants, were $595 million. The cost of employee benefits was $109 million, equivalent to 22 per cent of salaries and wages for time actually worked.

A thrift plan had been in operation for 16 months at the year end, with participation by 62,000 employees or 71 per cent of those eligible. The average monthly savings per employee is $31.82, the maximum permitted being $37.50. At the year end, employees' savings totaled $29.1 million, and Du Pont had contributed $7.7 million as an incentive reward for their savings.

Of the total of 168,675 stockholders at the year end, an increase of 9,666 during the year, 87 per cent were individuals, including 58,605 men and 17,521 women and 16,535 joint accounts. The remaining 13 per cent were institutions and groups such as churches, hospitals, trusts and estates, investment funds and companies, charities, and insurance firms.

As To Preventing, Avoiding or Curing Colds

Recently in a Washington C. H. drug store a coughing and sneezing man was heard to ask for something that would put an end to his "bad cold".

He is just one of many of us who usually go through the misery of days of fighting the common cold and so far there seems little we can do about it if we "catch" such unpleasant maladies.

This man however came up with the remark that if the government spent a third of the annual appropriation it sets up for military equipment and services, in an intensive laboratory effort to find a cure to quickly end or prevent a common cold, the nation would be better off.

Regardless of this individual's idea it does seem that, so far as science is concerned, there does not appear to be a n y vaccine or serum discovered that will actually prevent most any individual from catching cold at some time or other.

There are plenty of cold remedies on the market and some of them seem to give temporary relief but there is no known positive medical discovery as yet for keeping a person from catching the "sneezes" such as the vaccines which prevent many other types of bodily ills. It may come about sometime and if it does surely many millions of people will be happier.

Price of Prosperity Is 'Worry'

NEW YORK (AP)—There was a time when the American dream called for a bathroom in every home, an electric light in every room, a car in every garage and a chicken in every pot.

This was the goal of prosperity, and the hope was that it all could be won by working a 5-day, 40-hour week.

How old-fashioned that dream seems now!

The goal now is two telephones and two television sets in every home, a bathroom for every bedroom, a radio and at least two floor lamps for every room, and at least two cars for every garage. All this is supposed to be achieved now on a 5-day, 35-hour week.

The kitchen that once contained a single gas stove and an icebox now overflows with an electric stove, an electric oven, a broiler and a refrigerator as big as a closet. The freezer is so big it has to be put in the basement.

Once the American home was kept clean with a dustmop and a broom. Today, it has a dustmop, a broom, a carpet sweeper, and a vacuum cleaner and 37 different attachments.

Remember the first pioneer in your neighborhood who bought a room air-conditioner? Now it isn't enough to air-condition even the entire house. At least one of the family cars should be air-conditioned, too.

Where will it all end?

Why, we aren't even half-way to happiness yet? In the last campaign, Vice President Richard Nixon foresaw a day when Americans might work only a 4-day week.

When this day arrives and the nation's long-range, high-speed highway network is completed, other crystal ball gazers foresee the rise of the two-home family which will shuttle between its dwelling in the city and its week-end refuge in the country.

Each family home (the one in the city, the one in the country) will, of course, need a broom, a dustmop, a carpet sweeper, a vacuum cleaner, two telephones, two television sets, a radio and a bathroom for every bedroom, three kinds of stoves, a refrigerator, a freezer, air-conditioners, and a garage that will hold two or three cars.

This automatically will double the present prosperity, as new automatic factories stamp out fresh millions of material gadgets that spell out America's high standard of living.

But prosperity always has a price tag on it.

One price of the existing prosperity may be reflected in the fact that one out of every two hospital beds in the country is occupied by a mental patient,

About the best defense for the individual, anxious to prevent colds, is to avoid close contact with those who have a cold, dress warmly and avoid becoming chilled or wet, eat properly, get enough fresh air, exercise and rest.

Of course, the above rules constitute sound advice, whether one wants to dodge a cold or not. They represent common-sense applied to the job of living well. The same advice will tend to prevent one from getting sicknesses of any kind. About all that it will not help prevent is an accident, or the unexpected visit of an unwelcome relative.

The average person is apt to overlook the possible serious consequences of the ordinary cold. If taken in hand, a slight cold may not be dangerous but, if neglected, it can develop into a more serious malady. The experts suggest, if you get a cold:

(1) Don't hesitate to take plenty of rest and, if at all possible, stay in bed.

(2) Eat rather lightly and drink plenty of fluids.

(3) Avoid mingling in crowds and, as nearly as possible, stay in an even temperature. By keeping away from others, you also protect them from your cold.

(4) If the cold continues and you develop fever, call your doctor. There may be some other cause for the fever.

and one out of every 12 children born today will suffer a mental ailment.

The sale of aspirin has risen steadily with the rise in living standards, and some wag has figures out that for every $40 earned in the United States somebody gets a headache.

The price of prosperity, worry, is also shown by the widespread increase of the number of people who are unable to sleep without taking a sleep capsule, and who can't face the duties of the day unless they gulp "happy pills" as if they were peanuts.

Half the people in America who are sick now are sick because they haven't been able to find contentment while surrounded by more creature comforts than any other people in history.

The one-home family now can get by with a single family doctor. If the hypertension, ulcer and heart attack problems are doubled in the one-home family home, the two-home family home probably will require at least two doctors.

Such being the case, if we are to go on madly trying to eat higher and higher on the hog, perhaps the educational goal should be fewer kindergartens and more medical universities to turn out more physicians to write more "happy pill" prescriptions.

Let 'Em Work and Grow Up

We had a near riot here in New York for a day or two when mobs of children gathered on Washington's birthday, fittingly clothed in blue jeans and black leather jackets, to enter a movie house to hear some rock-n-roll.

They danced in the aisles; they smooched in their seats; they banged their feet until the fire department and building inspectors had to clear part of the balconies to prevent a calamity.

Is the answer that these children should not be sent to school any more because they have reached a point when they cannot learn anything and cannot be disciplined at school, but would be wholesome, normal human beings if they were permitted by law to earn a living and were required by their parents to pay for their board and lodging?

Are we not being too arbitrary about how long children must remain children; is not the law at variance with biologic growth and change? Are we not really creating discontent by keeping a boy at parties when he should be operating a machine?

Are not some of our youngsters forced to become juvenile delinquents, as the social workers like to call them, because they are bored and the desire for adventure takes the wrong road?

When I was a boy lots of us worked from the time we could to earn something. We were boot-blacks, newspaper vendors, office boys, public library helpers and what not.

Now at 14, a child may work in some states during vacations and after school hours; in many states, not at all, except for their parents or at farm work. In some states, it is permissible to take factory jobs at 16; in other states at 18. Few unions permit apprentices to learn a trade early enough; and some unions have no apprenticeship systems. Some municipalities have trade high schools; many do not.

Under social conditions now obtaining in the United States, for those boys and girls who do not plan to go to college, 18 is a late age to start learning how to earn a living, in view of the fact that most of them will be drafted for the military.

These boys and girls are sex-conscious earlier than 18, and the boys want pocket money, beyond what their parents can give them, so they can take their steadies out for a good time.

If the kids could earn a few dollars a week, they could have their good times normally and as compensation for work. A law forbidding a girl under 18 from working after 7 p. m. is as antiquated as antimacassar. What do kids of 16 and 17 who hate home-work usually do after 7 p. m.?

Do all of them sit at home watching TV and listening to daddy tell mommy for the millionth time what a great man he would have been if he had the breaks?

The likelihood is that the girl and her steady boy have foregathered somewhere to talk about themselves and how they could be wonderful if only they had the dough. If enough of them get together, it is a gang, and if a gang has nothing else to do, it gets into a fight and robs a candy store.

Life is really simple if it were not made so complicated by those who want to make a perfect society here and now and fast. There are lots of essentially decent children who do not care whether a French verb is regular or irregular but who want a job, want to marry early and who, if they survived military service, will probably stay married and will probably turn out to be upright working-class citizens.

Their difficulty is that while the boy wants to be a grease monkey in a garage or an electrician, he is asked to sit in a classroom in front of a kid's desk reading "Silas Marner" which can be a pain in the neck; and the girl would rather be a waitress or a salesgirl or a manicurist than listen to a teach-

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

With everyone scurrying about so busily these days, falls are an ever-present hazard especially for elderly people. And a fall frequently means a fractured rib.

Even if there is no swelling or deformity noticeable, a mere tender spot might indicate a broken rib. This is especially likely if breathing causes pain at a central spot.

Generally, rib fractures occur in the lower part of the chest toward the sides.

Broken Ends

Broken ends of a rib are subjected continually to the motion of breathing. If the broken ends touch the underlying sensory nerves, there is apt to be pain with every breath.

Fortunately, nature helps to heal broken ribs. The soft tissues and adjoining ribs serve as splints and usually immobilize the fractured bones sufficiently to permit healing.

Internal Injury

But whether there is pain or not, a fractured rib requires the prompt attention of a doctor. There's always the possibility of an internal injury. Then, too, if left to heal by itself without adequate care, a respiratory infection might develop.

If there is no pain or wound, you probably won't have to apply a bandage.

However, if there is pain, a cravat bandage usually is advisable until the patient gets to a doctor. The bandage should be about two inches wide around the lower portion of the chest.

Additional Bandages

Sometimes it might be necessary to apply additional bandages both above and below the original one. The main thing is to immobilize the chest. This is best done by bandaging the lower portion even if the injury is well above that.

Bandaging, however, is only a temporary measure to relieve pain until a doctor can be consulted.

If the bandage doesn't relieve the pain sufficiently, heat may be applied to the site.

The best thing, however, is to get medical attention as promptly as possible.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery
un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moistening capacity plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk that

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower made a pitch last year for long-range foreign aid. It wasn't a very strong pitch and he lost. This year, with some outside help, he may try again.

Congress has steadfastly clung to the idea of aid on a year-by-year basis ever since 1948 when, with the Marshall Plan, this country first set up foreign assistance on a big scale.

Economic aid is designed to open countries. But the year-by-year arrangements prevents this country and the receiving nations from planning developments which takes years to complete. And waterpower development, or highways and railroads.

So in 1956 Eisenhower asked Congress to approve a foreign aid program which would permit carrying on some projects for as much as 10 years. He didn't ask for money for 10 years, all in a lump. But he wanted congressional promises that would make long-range planning possible.

He ran into stiff opposition and apparently backed away. Neither he nor his aides made much of a fight. Instead, he concentrated on trying to get Congress to give him the full $4,900,000,000 he has asked for one year. Congress didn't go along on that either. It cut more than a billion off his request.

But there was agreement between Eisenhower and Congress that it was time for some fairly thorough studies on the whole problem of foreign aid. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee hired 11 research organizations and assigned 10 men familiar with foreign affairs to do the job.

Two different groups appointed by Eisenhower went to work. They were made up of representatives of business, labor, agriculture and the public. One was headed by Benjamin F. Fairless, steel executive, and the other, continuing advisory body, by Eric Johnston.

The Senate study reports have been pouring out in recent weeks. Most of them favor long-term aid. In the past week the Fairless and Johnston groups have reported. They favor long-term aid.

Nasser, Communists Labeled Criminals

DALLAS (AP)—Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison told a Kiwanis group that the Communists "are nothing more than racketeers and criminals, and the same goes for Nasser of Egypt."

Harrison, who negotiated the armistice in the Korean War, is executive director of the Evangelical Welfare Agency of Chicago, which sponsors placement of orphans in Christian homes.

Tie-dy

APPARENTLY Paris designer Jacques Heim decided four-in-hand was worth two in the bush for any girl looking for a bow. It's a "chemise" creation in white linen with shoulder-wide collar. (International)

James Marlow

So if Eisenhower wants to propose a 10-year program again this year he has a lot of support—at least outside Congress. It's still questionable the full Congress will go along with the idea.

And right now inside the Eisenhower administration it is understood some of the President's top advisers are chilly to long-range commitments.

Johnston's group expressed belief there is wide misunderstanding in this country on the amount and kind of aid being given. This is a brief breakdown:

Of the $3,800,000,000 billion voted by Congress last year, about two billions is in military assistance; another $1,200,000,000 in economic help to the nations getting military assistance; and 250 millions for economic development in neutral countries.

The remainder goes to international agencies, to technical assistance, into presidential funds for emergency relief, or into the cost of administering the program.

The Johnston group reported that roughly two thirds of the countries: Turkey, Pakistan, Iran, South Korea, Viet Nam, and the Nationalist republic of China. They have a population of 170 million.

The remaining third goes to underdeveloped countries having a 900 million population.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

With everyone scurrying about so busily these days, falls are an ever-present hazard especially for elderly people. And a fall frequently means a fractured rib.

Even if there is no swelling or deformity noticeable, a mere tender spot might indicate a broken rib. This is especially likely if breathing causes pain at a central spot.

Generally, rib fractures occur in the lower part of the chest toward the sides.

Broken Ends

Broken ends of a rib are subjected continually to the motion of breathing. If the broken ends touch the underlying sensory nerves, there is apt to be pain with every breath.

Fortunately, nature helps to heal broken ribs. The soft tissues and adjoining ribs serve as splints and usually immobilize the fractured bones sufficiently to permit healing.

Internal Injury

But whether there is pain or not, a fractured rib requires the prompt attention of a doctor. There's always the possibility of an internal injury. Then, too, if left to heal by itself without adequate care, a respiratory infection might develop.

If there is no pain or wound, you probably won't have to apply a bandage.

However, if there is pain, a cravat bandage usually is advisable until the patient gets to a doctor. The bandage should be about two inches wide around the lower portion of the chest.

Additional Bandages

Sometimes it might be necessary to apply additional bandages both above and below the original one. The main thing is to immobilize the chest. This is best done by bandaging the lower portion even if the injury is well above that.

Bandaging, however, is only a temporary measure to relieve pain until a doctor can be consulted.

If the bandage doesn't relieve the pain sufficiently, heat may be applied to the site.

The best thing, however, is to get medical attention as promptly as possible.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery
un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk that

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower made a pitch last year for long-range foreign aid. It wasn't a very strong pitch and he lost. This year, with some outside help, he may try again.

Congress has steadfastly clung to the idea of aid on a year-by-year basis ever since 1948 when, with the Marshall Plan, this country first set up foreign assistance on a big scale.

Economic aid is designed to open countries. But the year-by-year arrangements prevents this country and the receiving nations from planning developments which takes years to complete, and waterpower development, or highways and railroads.

So in 1956 Eisenhower asked Congress to approve a foreign aid program which would permit carrying on some projects for as much as 10 years. He didn't ask for money for 10 years, all in a lump. But he wanted congressional promises that would make long-range planning possible.

He ran into stiff opposition and apparently backed away. Neither he nor his aides made much of a fight. Instead, he concentrated on trying to get Congress to give him the full $4,900,000,000 he has asked for one year. Congress didn't go along on that either. It cut more than a billion off his request.

But there was agreement between Eisenhower and Congress that it was time for some fairly thorough studies on the whole problem of foreign aid. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee hired 11 research organizations and assigned 10 men familiar with foreign affairs to do the job.

Two different groups appointed by Eisenhower went to work. They were made up of representatives of business, labor, agriculture and the public. One was headed by Benjamin F. Fairless, steel executive, and the other, continuing advisory body, by Eric Johnston.

The Senate study reports have been pouring out in recent weeks. Most of them favor long-term aid. In the past week the Fairless and Johnston groups have reported. They favor long-term aid.

James Marlow

So if Eisenhower wants to propose a 10-year program again this year he has a lot of support—at least outside Congress. It's still questionable the full Congress will go along with the idea.

And right now inside the Eisenhower administration it is understood some of the President's top advisers are chilly to long-range commitments.

Johnston's group expressed belief there is wide misunderstanding in this country on the amount and kind of aid being given. This is a brief breakdown:

Of the $3,800,000,000 billion voted by Congress last year, about two billions is in military assistance; another $1,200,000,000 in economic help to the nations getting military assistance; and 250 millions for economic development in neutral countries.

The remainder goes to international agencies, to technical assistance, into presidential funds for emergency relief, or into the cost of administering the program.

The Johnston group reported that roughly two thirds of the countries: Turkey, Pakistan, Iran, South Korea, Viet Nam, and the Nationalist republic of China. They have a population of 170 million.

The remaining third goes to underdeveloped countries having a 900 million population.

State Board of Education Due for Legislative Study

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio's state board of education will come under the glare of a legislative spotlight this week.

Chairman T. K. Owens (R-Jackson) of the House Education Committee opens hearings Wednesday on proposals to cut the number of board members elected in the state's 23 congressional districts.

One bill proposes a seven-member board appointed statewide by the governor. The other would create a board of nine members appointed from the nine appellate court districts existing Jan. 1, 1955, before another district was added.

A third bill pending in the Senate proposes a nine-member board appointed at large. Senate leaders said they might await outcome of House hearings before considering that measure.

Legislators said that among other things they want to determine whether complaints that the board is unwieldy and ineffective stem from its size.

The complaints follow failure of the board to obtain a $25,000 a year state superintendent of public instruction more than a year after the board was organized, Jan. 3, 1956. Members of the first state board were elected in November, 1955.

Lawmakers are divided on the question of the board's size. Hearings could shift legislative sentiment either way, some speculated.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) asserted the Legislature may have made a mistake in creating a large board. It was the Senate two years ago that insisted on expanding a house bill for a nine-member board to 23 members.

"I am inclined to believe we made a mistake," Mechem said.

Gov. C. William O'Neill told newsmen he was inclined to agree with Mechem. O'Neill said that "the board has not accomplished what it should and has been unwieldy and not effective."

House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) opposes a change in board membership at this time.

"A board of that short life," he said, "ought to be given a reasonable length of time to demonstrate whether it can be effective."

Of the board members, he said: "Their chief function is to employ a superintendent. Then they lay down policy procedure and move into the background. They are not an administrative group. Until they get a superintendent, they have been doing some administrative work that is not primarily their function."

Chairman Robert A. Manchester of Youngstown denied claims that his board was unwieldy and ineffective. He indicated that the Legislature must share responsibility for failure to get a state school superintendent.

The board hired Harold S. Vincent, head of Milwaukee schools, for the Ohio job but recently yielded to his request to drop the contract. Vincent said he cooled because legality of his employment was questioned.

Statute requires major state appointments to be qualified Ohio voters. That means they must reside in Ohio for at least a year. Also questioned was the board's authority to set the state superintendent's salary. Attorneys said the Legislature must do that.

Proposals are pending in the Legislature to solve those two legal questions but enactment will take time. Legislators pointed out that those two hurdles have caused the governor difficulty in filling his cabinet.

O'Neill, a former attorney general, imported Charles M. Noble from the New Jersey Turnpike Commission, as his $30,000 a year secretary in charge of highways. Noble will be eligible for appointment as state director of highways after living in Ohio a year. But O'Neill has yet to find a $25,000 a year man to run the state's hospitals and prisons because of the legal hurdles.

Legislators assert that regardless of the State School Board's problems, members probably could prevent any change in its size this session by hiring a state school superintendent within the next two months. Unless that takes place, they aren't too certain about the course of pending bills in an unpredictable Legislature.

Postmaster Clark Wickensimer is pleased with receipts at the Washington C. H. Post Office for the first two months this year because they are $2,938.83 greater than they were for the first two months of 1956.

That means if the present rate is maintained the remainder of the year, the receipts will show one of the greatest gains in many years.

For January this year receipts were $14,916.19 compared with $12,252.78 in 1956.

Last month total receipts were $13,391.11 and a year ago in February the amount was $3,115.59.

BLOOMINGBURG VIDETTE

Bloomington boasted a newspaper some 58 years ago, and my information is that it was published for a few years and then discontinued for lack of financial support. It was the "Bloomington Vidette".

A copy of the paper, managed and edited by W. E. Brown and owned by S. N. Brown, was published weekly on Fridays, and I have a copy dated Friday, August 4, 1899, bearing the name of Dr. B. T. Keller, former well known physician of Bloomington. The paper came from Mrs. Thomas Parrett, of Bloomington. Her mother, Mrs. J. M. Willis was a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Keller.

The Vidette plant was located on the east side of Main St., in Bloomington, in a room next to, or formerly occupied by the Lafayette Eggleston store, according to recollection of one of the older residents.

I note that in 1899 there were four physicians in the town, Dr. B. T. Keller, Dr. C. W. Holdren, Dr. F. E. Hyer and Dr. C. M. Wilson.

"I sentence me to 30 days in jail," said Holsey. "I suspend the 30 days and put me on probation for a year."

Judge Wanamaker let the sentence stand.

Korea Bonus Forms Handed Out Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Distribution of application forms for Korean War bonuses began throughout the state today.

Chester W. Goble, director of the Korean Conflict Compensation Fund, said 22 Ohio National Guard trucks will begin distributing the forms to banks, newspapers, employment services, veterans organizations and other agencies. Goble said he expects about 250,000 eligible veterans to apply for the bonuses.

The bonuses are payable to veterans who saw service between June 25, 19 and July 19, 1953. They must have lived in Ohio at least one year before entering service and have been Ohio residents on the day of induction.

Eligible servicemen will receive $10 a month for each month of domestic service, and $15 a month for each month of sea duty, Alaska service, or foreign service. The maximum amount any one can receive is $400.

Relatives of deceased veterans who qualify must write direct to the fund for application forms. The fund's address is 293 East Long Street, Columbus, 15, Ohio.

Permission must first be obtained from the Chief of Police if dancing is planned for weddings or family parties in Alma, Quebec.

Weeks Denies Ike's Program Is 'Just Like the New Deal'

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Clegg jabbed Saturday at what he called "those old friends" who complain that the Eisenhower program is "just like the New Deal."

He defended the President's proposed $71,800,000,000 budget and declared "Americans, living under the awful shadow of the hydrogen bomb, must pay a lot of money to remain free and stay alive."

Weeks, in a speech prepared for the Womens National Republican Club here, said Eisenhower's "modern Republicanism is not something brand new, dreamed up recently—as some folks think—by maverick star gazers."

He said "it is as old as the principles of the first successful republican candidate for the presidency, Abraham Lincoln."

The secretary fired his heaviest shots at the "New Dealism" charge.

Weeks said the record "clearly proves the sharp contrast between our middle-of-the-road administration and the New Deal," which he said "ostended such ideas as 'socialized medicine and socialized agriculture.'"

The commerce secretary defended the record-breaking peacetime budget as "designed to carry out the Republican program of peace, prosperity and progress."

Weeks noted that nearly 63 percent of the proposed expenditures are earmarked directly for national security, and he declared "the price of security and peace is not cheap."

"Every year it takes more money to buy the absolutely essential new weapons in the field of . . . ultra modern war materials," Weeks said.

Apart from defense demands, Weeks said the rapid growth of the U. S. population—11 million in the past four years—has meant that the federal government has had to expand some functions to keep pace.

One of the most difficult budget problems, he said, is "the almost insatiable demand of different peoples for new government service and the continued expansion of the old . . ."

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Postmaster Clark Wickensimer is pleased with receipts at the Washington C. H. Post Office for the first two months this year because they are $2,938.83 greater than they were for the first two months of 1956.

That means if the present rate is maintained the remainder of the year, the receipts will show one of the greatest gains in many years.

For January this year receipts were $14,916.19 compared with $12,252.78 in 1956.

Last month total receipts were $13,391.11 and a year ago in February the amount was $3,115.59.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The U. S. was on the verge of war with Germany, and had instructed gunners on merchantmen to shoot at any periscope appearing near the vessels. The U. S. S. Steamship Algonquin was torpedoed and sunk. China severed diplomatic relations with Germany. The international situation was tense generally.

Frank L. Stutson, department store proprietor, died suddenly in Florida.

Violent tornado swept northern Fayette County doing extensive damage.

Jefferson township was to vote April 7 on consolidating 14 rural schools in the township.

BLOOMINGBURG VIDETTE

Bloomington boasted a newspaper some 58 years ago, and my information is that it was published for a few years and then discontinued for lack of fi-

nanacial support. It was the "Bloomington Vidette".

A copy of the paper, managed and edited by W. E. Brown and owned by S. N. Brown, was published weekly on Fridays, and I have a copy dated Friday, August 4, 1899, bearing the name of Dr. B. T. Keller, former well known physician of Bloomington. The paper came from Mrs. Thomas Parrett, of Bloomington. Her mother, Mrs. J. M. Willis was a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Keller.

The Vidette plant was located on the east side of Main St., in Bloomington, in a room next to, or formerly occupied by the Lafayette Eggleston store, according to recollection of one of the older residents.

I note that in 1899 there were four physicians in the town, Dr. B. T. Keller, Dr. C. W. Holdren, Dr. F. E. Hyer and Dr. C. M. Wilson. L. H. Pursell was proprietor of the "Only First Class Livery Stable", with "best livery stock ever in the city" and "special attention to rigs left in my care". Back of hotel.

Prisoner Writes His Own Sentence

AKRON (AP)—Judge Walter B. Wanamaker let the convicted prisoner sentence himself because he had spent eight months in jail awaiting trial.

"Since the courts haven't been able to get through to you to straighten you out," the judge told Charles Holsey, 47, of Akron, convicted of assault on a 6-year-old girl, "maybe it would be better if you sentence yourself."

"I sentence me to 30 days in jail," said Holsey. "I suspend the 30 days and put me on probation for a year."

Judge Wanamaker let the sentence stand.

Weeks Denies Ike's Program Is 'Just Like the New Deal'

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks jabbed Saturday at what he called "those old friends" who complain that the Eisenhower program is "just like the New Deal."

He defended the President's proposed $71,800,000,000 budget and declared "Americans, living under the awful shadow of the hydrogen bomb, must pay a lot of money to remain free and stay alive."

Weeks, in a speech prepared for the Womens National Republican Club here, said Eisenhower's "modern Republicanism is not something brand new, dreamed up recently—as some folks think—by maverick star gazers."

He said "it is as old as the principles of the first successful republican candidate for the presidency, Abraham Lincoln."

The secretary fired his heaviest shots at the "New Dealism" charge.

Weeks said the record "clearly proves the sharp contrast between our middle-of-the-road administration and the New Deal," which he said fostered such ideas as "socialized medicine and socialized agriculture."

The commerce secretary defended the record-breaking peacetime budget as "designed to carry out the Republican program of peace, prosperity and progress."

Weeks noted that nearly 63 per cent of the proposed expenditures are earmarked directly for national security, and he declared "the price of security and peace is not cheap."

"Every year it takes more money to buy the absolutely essential new weapons in the field of... ultra modern war materials," Weeks said.

Apart from defense demands, Weeks said the rapid growth of the U. S. population—11 million in the past four years—has meant that the federal government has had to expand some functions to keep pace.

One of the most difficult budget problems, he said, is "the almost insatiable demand of different peoples for new government service and the continued expansion of the old..."

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Your recent column warning a lonely widow against pen pal friendships with strangers leads me to write you about the work of Letters Abroad: A Clearing House for International Correspondence. This is an affiliated committee of the National Council of Women of the United States, Inc.

President Eisenhower's People-to-People program includes encouragement of international correspondence. And our correspondence program is intended for friendly intelligent persons, who can do much to promote understandings between the United States and other nations. Letters abroad exists to supply names to such Americans who know no one abroad to whom to write.

As of today, we have a large number of requests from young people in India, Egypt, Italy, Iraq, and many other countries, between the ages of 1 and 25, who would like to exchange mail with Americans.

Therefore, young business men and women, students over 15, and other Americans, are invited to secure a name through Letters Abroad, at 45 East 65th Street, New York City 21. They should give their age and interests and choose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Treasurers between will act as chaperones.

Will you help the People-to-People program by bringing this service to the attention of your readers? We would be very grateful.

Mrs. M. M., Chairman
LETTERS ABROAD

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: A recent column of yours was brought to my attention and my conscience won't let it go unanswered. It tells the story of your wife who gets panicky at the thought of child bearing.

You suggest that her fears may be a byproduct of chronic fatigue, related to the stress of earning her own way since her teens. You say perhaps she is just too tired, and too deprived on the score of childhood security, to relish the prospect of motherhood—and perhaps she needs to build up her health of body and mind, to qualify as a hearty candidate for a full life.

My only complaint has to do with your closing sentence, which says: "For pointers you might read 'Let's Eat Right to Keep Fit' (Harcourt Brace) by Adelle Davis."

As a community nutritionist, may I say there are several health agencies in New York City that maintain a staff of professional nutritionists whose advice is available upon request.

The NYC Health Department's Bureau of Nutrition is one source; and the NYC Community Service Society is another.

M. B.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: One of your recent correspondents says her husband lacks will power to stop drinking. Well, let me tell you, it takes more than will power to stop drinking, when one has become an alcoholic. It takes God-power.

I was a drinker for 36 years; and couldn't stop drinking, even when facing the fact that I was losing my dearly beloved wife, because of drink.

I tried everything; any advice that anyone gave me, and nothing worked. Finally I joined Alcoholics Anonymous and the best cure they taught me was prayer. Believe me, it works; and has been working for the past 10 years.

Now I have my dear wife and am a very happy man. So if anyone asks how to stop drinking, tell them to pray and keep praying. It is the best medicine in the world, and may I add, the only remedy that will work.

W. B.

DEAR CORRESPONDENTS: Your information and suggestions no doubt will provide "answers to problems" for many readers. And advice from the audience is always a pleasant break for me.

M. H.

Shades of Old

GUTHRIE, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma is celebrating its 50th anniversary of statehood this year but every once in a while it is reminded of its pioneer days.

Sherif. Tom Grunden reported one oldtime practice is still around — horse thieves took two horses and two saddles from a farm near here. Later, two boys were arrested — still riding the stolen horses.

Yipee Ty Yi Yea

BERWYN, Alta. (AP)—A scarcity of mice and rabbits in this Peace River district is bringing coyote raids on settled regions. As a result, poison pellets are being set out in greater numbers. Last year the control program netted 5,500 coyotes.

N-O-T-E-S

ON THE USE OF PLANTS IN MODERN HOMES

Of recent years, there has been a most pronounced increase in the use of foliage and flowering plants in homes, schools, and commercial buildings.

The general trend has been to simulate a green background or "garden atmosphere" with foliage plants which, if desired, serves to show flowering plants to their best advantage.

Suggestions along the above lines have been outlined in a new booklet, copies of which are available on request, or will be mailed to the secretary of your garden club.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Your recent column warning a lonely widow against pen pal friendships with strangers leads me to write you about the work of Letters Abroad: A Clearing House for International Correspondence. This is an affiliated committee of the National Council of Women of the United States, Inc.

President Eisenhower's People-to-People program includes encouragement of international correspondence. And our correspondence program is intended for friendly intelligent persons, who can do much to promote understandings between the United States and other nations. Letters abroad exists to supply names to such Americans who know no one abroad to whom to write.

As of today, we have a large number of requests from young people in India, Egypt, Italy, Iraq, and many other countries, between the ages of 1 and 25, who would like to exchange mail with Americans.

Therefore, young business men and women, students over 15, and other Americans, are invited to secure a name through Letters Abroad, at 45 East 65th Street, New York City 21. They should give their age and interests and enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. The chances between will act as a charmer.

Will you help the People-to-People program by bringing this service to the attention of your readers? We would be very grateful. M. S. M., Chairman LET'S ABRO I

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: A recent column of yours was brought to my attention and my conscience won't let it go unanswered. It tells the story of your wife who gets panicky at the thought of child bearing.

You suggest that her fears may be a byproduct of chronic fatigue, related to the stress of earning her own way since her teens. You say perhaps she is just too tired, and too deprived on the score of childhood security, to relish the prospect of motherhood—and perhaps she needs to build up her health of body and mind, to qualify as a hearty candidate for a full life.

My only complaint has to do with your closing sentence, which says: "For pointers you might read 'Let's Eat Right to Keep Fit' (Harcourt Brace) by Adelle Davis..."

As a community nutritionist, may I say there are several health agencies in New York City that maintain a staff of professional nutritionists whose advice is available upon request.

The NYC Health Department's Bureau of Nutrition is one source; and the NYC Community Service Society is another.

M. B. DEAR MARY HAWORTH: One of your recent correspondents says her husband lacks will power to stop drinking. Well, let me tell you, it takes more than will power to stop drinking, when one has become an alcoholic. It takes God-power.

I was a drinker for 36 years; and couldn't stop drinking, even when facing the fact that I was losing my dearly beloved wife, because of drink.

I tried everything; any advice that anyone gave me, and nothing worked. Finally I joined Alcoholics Anonymous and the best cure

Regional Tourneys Due This Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — Middle-town's mighty Middies, boasting a record 48-game winning streak and lot on the trail of their seventh Ohio high school basketball championship, go against a once-beaten foe Friday in the regional tournaments.

Paul Walker's powerhouse, with 23 straight this year, meets New Carlisle Tecumseh Friday at Cincinnati, a team which has won 22 of 23.

That's the game everyone will be watching as 16 Class AA and 16 Class A quintets—the standouts of the starting field of 1,045—go into action in the regional.

Of the "sweet 16" Class AA clubs still in contention, only Middletown and Zanesville have ever won the title. The Middies took it in 1944, 1946, 1947, 1952, 1953 and 1955, while Zanesville triumphed in 1926 and 1955.

Zanesville meets Cleveland East Tech, one of last year's quartet of state finalists, in the Berea Regional Thursday. East Tech went in with a 23-0 record a year ago, but has a 16-5 mark this time against Zanesville's 19-2.

Three of the 16 Class AA quintets have been runner-up in the big state finals. Columbus North finished second in 1932, Akron South in 1950, and Canton McKinley in 1928, 1931, 1940, 1943 and 1956—without taking the pennant. Lockland Wayne, Joe Martin's

Wall Pockets Top Prize At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (P) — A two-under-par three on the long eighth hole of the Pensacola Country Club golf course meant money in the bank to Art Wall Jr.

The eagle was the key to victory and the $2,000 top prize in the Pensacola Open Golf tournament to the soft-spoken pro from Pocono Manor, Pa., Sunday. It enabled him to beat out Australian Peter Thomson by two strokes with a 72-hole total of 273, 15 strokes under par.

The tournament early had become a head-and-head duel between the 33-year-old Wall, a former Duke University basketball and golf star, and Thomson, 27, winner of the British Open the last three years.

Thomson moved out in front in the third round Saturday with a five-under-par 67 over the windswept 6,325-yard course.

With the chips down, Thomson faltered on the front nine Sunday. Wall's rounds of 70-68-69-66-273 compared with the Australian's 69-67-70-275. Thomson picked up $1,500 second prize money.

Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., rallied for 68s in the final two rounds to take third place money of $1,200 and a 278.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, had a seven-under-par 65, lowest round of the tournament, Sunday to tie Walter Burkemo for fourth at 279. Burkemo, from Franklin Hills, Mich., had a final round 68. Each received $950.

Regalado Aiming At Indian Position

TUCSON, Ariz. (P) — Rudy Regalado, one of the last of the Cleveland Indians to sign, showed up at training camp here with the declaration: "There's a job open, and I'll give it my best shot."

The job is at third base, vacated by the retirement of Al Rosen.

Rudy can hit, but he will have to prove that he can hold down the fielding chore. For the last three years he has been shunted back and forth between Cleveland and the Indianapolis farm club, hitting 250, 269 and 234 for the Indians and 316 and 322 for Indianapolis.

Gross, Post Star As Redlegs Lose

LAMPA, Fla. (P) — Lefthander Don Gross and slugger Wally Post provided bright spots for Cincinnati's Redlegs Sunday despite a 6-4 exhibition game loss to Chicago's White Sox.

Redleg Manager Birdi Tebbetts said, "It looks like Don Gross will be one of my 'spot pitchers' again this season. He's a cool fellow under fire."

And outfielder Post belted two Redleg homers over the leftfield fence, in addition to a run-scoring single.

Big Ten's Winter Sports Card Ends

CHICAGO (P) — Michigan State, Minnesota, Illinois and Wisconsin grabbed off Big Ten championships over the weekend concluding winter sports competition.

Michigan State ended Ohio State's eight year reign in swimming, Minnesota clipped two-time defending champion Michigan for the wrestling title, Illinois maintained its grip in gymnastics with its eighth straight championship and Wisconsin speared the fencing crown.

An appropriately named 2-year-old at Hialeah is Greentree Stable's Frank. He was sired by Tom Fool, horse of the year in 1953.

ever-threatening, team, is the only Class A team ever to take the state title or be runner-up among the 16 survivors. Wayne won in 1952 and 1955, after finishing second in 1949.

The Class AA teams have a combined record of 307 wins and 42 defeats. Middletown with 23-0 and Cleveland Cathedral Latin with 21-0 are the only unbeaten teams, and Lima with 12-8 has the poorest record.

The Class A teams have won 336 and lost 57, with only New Boston claiming an unsullied record of 22 in a row. Ottawa St. Peter and Paul is on the other end with a 16-10 mark.

Of the top 10 teams in the final Associated Press Class AA poll, seven are still in the running—an exceptional record since the sports editors picked them from among 349 quintets.

Three of the top 10, Columbus North (4), Toledo Maconber (5) and Shelby (7) are in the Toledo regional with Lima. Middletown (2) and Chillicothe (9) are at Cincinnati; Cleveland Cathedral Latin (1) at Berea, and Youngstown South (6) at Kent.

Only three-ranked Vienna and ninth-placed Lockland Wayne of the top 10 in Class A made it to the regionals.

A complete rematch of last year's four finalists in the Class AA state meet is possible as Middletown, Cleveland East Tech, Columbus North and Canton McKinley are still in. But none of the Class A finalists of a year ago survived district play this year, assuring a new cast.

Arcanum's surprising youngsters who stormed out of Darke County to take the title a year ago were erased 49-42 by Bradford in the finals at Springfield Saturday. And Willshire, state tourney entrant the last two years, was victimized 57-42 by New Bremen at Bluffton in the final district game.

Regional games are scheduled Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in semifinals this week, but all finals in which teams will win their way to the March 22-23 state meet are booked for Saturday night.

Here are the pairings for this week's regionals from which four qualifiers will be named for the state finals at Ohio State University's St. John's Arena (all regional finals at 8 p. m. Saturday):

Richards Misses Pole Vault Mark

MILWAUKEE (P) — The world pole vault record of Cornelius Warmerdam remains intact despite a magnificent assault by the Rev. Bob Richards of Los Angeles during the weekend.

Warmerdam set the indoor mark of 15 feet 8 1/2 inches in Chicago in the horizontal bar at 15 feet 9 1/4 inches. Richards actually cleared the horizontal bar at 15 feet 9 1/4 inches Saturday, but dislodged the pole coming down.

Richards did succeed in breaking his Journal Games' record by vaulting 15 feet 5 1/2 inches, 3/4 inch over his old mark.

U. S. College Cagers Head Into Tell-Tale Tournaments

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — West Virginia's Hot Rod Hundley, North Carolina's Len Rosenbluth and Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain lead their teams into the 23-team NCAA major college tournament this week in scattered sites across the nation.

Eight NCAA small college teams battle for the title in their tournament at Evansville, Ind., Wednesday through Saturday.

Thirty-two other small schools begin knocking heads today in the NAIA Tournament at Kansas City.

And in New York Saturday, the team National Invitation Tournament begins a week's run.

The NCAA major college lineup was completed over the weekend. North Carolina's unbeaten Tar Heels, No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, won their 27th straight, 95-75 over South Carolina, in the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tourney. The NCAA spot went with the championship.

The brand new NCAA small college affair—officially designated the "College Division" tournament to differentiate it from the major or "University Division" battle—began last week with 32 teams meeting on various courts. After Saturday's second-round games, Rider, Mt. St. Mary's, Buffalo, Kentucky Wesleyan, South Dakota, Wheaton, San Diego State and Los Angeles State are left for the quarter-finals at Evansville Wednesday.

The NCAA major tournament gets under way tonight at Pocatello, Idaho, with Idaho State of the Rocky Mountain Conference and Hardin-Simmons, Border Conference representative, meeting in a preliminary round. Other prelims in New York, Oklahoma City and Columbus, Ohio, are slated for Tuesday night.

In New York, North Carolina meets Yale, Connecticut meets Syracuse and West Virginia meets Canisius. It's Miami (Ohio) against Notre Dame and Pittsburgh vs. Morehead (Ky.) at Columbus. Loyola of the South and Oklahoma City meet on the latter's court.

The winners of these seven games advance to the regional quarter-finals with nine teams exempted from the prelims. The regionals are at Philadelphia, Dallas, Corvallis, Ore., and Lexington, Ky., Friday and Saturday. The regional champs advance to the semifinals and finals March 22-23 at Kansas City.

Washington C. H. Elk Bowlers Near Top in National Tourney

Two Washington C. H. teams are bowling in the 37th annual handicapped tournament of the Elks National Bowling Assn. in Columbus Sunday today were in a good position to take down at least a share of the $32,000 prize money.

The tourney, which started March 2, runs through March 4 and April, with teams of Elks from all over the country bowling only on weekends.

Team events are rolled on the Riverview lanes and the doubles and singles at Olentangy Village. Harry Thrailkill was in second place in the singles when he left Sunday evening after rolling games of 215, 220 and 207 to tally 642 actual pins. Lakers Win Another Spot In Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Minneapolis, the granddaddy of professional basketball playoffs, today was ready for its campaign in the 1956-57 National Basketball Assn. post-season competition.

The Lakers, along with Fort Wayne's Pistons and the Syracuse Nationals qualified for the play-off Sunday, leaving only the winner of the New York-Philadelphia Eastern division scramble to complete the six-team set up. The Lakers have won the NBA championship five times, Boston and St. Louis previously gained play-off spots.

Minneapolis defeated the St. Louis Hawks, Western Division leaders, 117-104 Sunday.

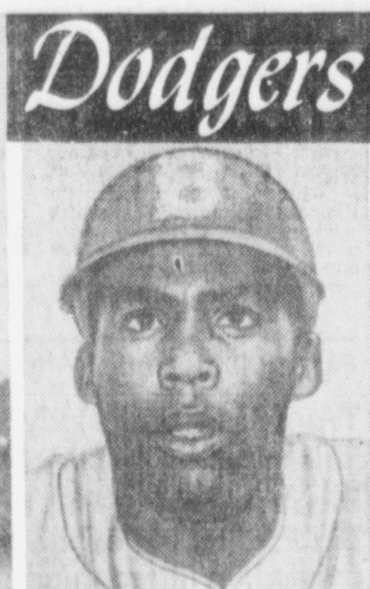

The Pistons earned their spot by eliminating the Rochester Royals from contention with a 100-96 victory. Syracuse had to battle to a 94-92 decision over the Eastern Division-leading Boston Celtics. New York captured its face to face meeting with Philadelphia 104-103.

The Knicks are 1 1/2 games back of Philadelphia. New York must defeat the pacesetter Celtics Wednesday while Philadelphia loses its two last games to qualify.

Dodgers Confident They Can Make It Three Straight League Championships

VERO BEACH, Fla. — The Dodgers are putting on an encore to their spring training in Japan last autumn by officially going through the routine at this one-time Navy base here and the optimism runs high that the Bums, with or without clowns and a Los Angeles Franchise, will repeat.

Even Skipper Walter Alston, who suddenly has become one of the successful managers in the National league from a nothing start, expresses a confidence not based this year on his pitching, and not the hitting, which was his forecast of a year ago.

Alston isn't the kind to shoot off his trap, even though he now is an amateur tapshooter of note, but he does say that "I'm very optimistic about my pitching with Johnny Podres back and Karl Spooner, looking good in camp and from what I saw of Roger Craig, Fred Kipp and Don Drysdale on the Japanese trip."

Alston said in an interview here. Pitching of Kipp, rookie up from Montreal, and Craig, who was 12-11 with the Dodgers last year, was impressive on the Japanese trip, with Craig winning the most valuable player award over there and Kipp running second.

Podres, hero of the 1955 World Series, is back from the service and he is "throwing with ease," according to Alston.

KEY TO THE BUMS' chances this year could be the "old men." However, Alston isn't worried about that for he has a flock of young minor leaguers available and he is planning a few switches.

Alston already has found out about his squad, however, for he played the key men on the Japanese trip and he knows that if Pee-wee Reese can't play short he can play third and that Second Baseman Junior Gilliam, described by Alston as "the key to the infield," can play third or the outfield.

Alston said he may use Clem Labine, the reliever, as a starter if needed. Actually, he now has enough starting pitchers in Don Newcombe, Podres, Craig, Carl Erskine, Maglie and perhaps one of the others.

DiBiase Favored

NEW YORK (P) — Tony DiBiase, 21-year-old college dourer, is favored to stretch his unbeaten string to 19 tonight when he takes on Danny Viovenelli in a well-weight 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Regional Tourneys Due This Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Middle-town's mighty Middies, boasting a record 48-game winning streak and hot on the trail of their seventh Ohio high school basketball championship, go against a once-beaten foe Friday in the regional tournaments.

Paul Walker's powerhouse, with 23 straight this year, meets New Carlisle Tecumseh Friday at Cincinnati, a team which has won 22 of 23.

That's the game everyone will be watching as 16 Class AA and 16 Class A quintets—the standouts of the starting field of 1,045—go into action in the regionals.

Of the "sweet 16" Class AA clubs still in contention, only Middletown and Zanesville have ever won the title. The Middies took it in 1944, 1946, 1947, 1952, 1953 and 1956, while Zanesville triumphed in 1926 and 1955.

Zanesville meets Cleveland East Tech, one of last year's quartet of state finalists, in the Berea Regional Thursday. East Tech went in with a 23-0 record a year ago, but has a 16-5 mark this time against Zanesville's 19-2.

Three of the 16 Class AA quintets have been runner-up in the big state finals. Columbus North finished second in 1932, Akron South in 1950, and Canton McKinley in 1928, 1931, 1940, 1943 and 1956—without taking the pennant.

Wall Pockets Top Prize At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A two-under-par three on the long eighth hole of the Pensacola Country Club golf course meant money in the bank to Art Wall Jr.

The eagle was the key to victory and the $2,000 top prize in the Pensacola Open Golf tournament to the soft-spoken pro from Pocono Manor, Pa., Sunday. It enabled him to beat out Australian Peter Thomson by two strokes with a 72-hole total of 273, 15 strokes under par.

The tournament early had become a head-and-head duel between the 33-year-old Wall, a former Duke University basketball and golf star, and Thomson, 27, winner of the British Open the last three years.

Thomson moved out in front in the third round Saturday with a five-under-par 67 over the windswept 6,325-yard course.

With the chips down, Thomson faltered on the front nine Sunday.

Wall's rounds of 70-69-66-273 compared with the Australian's 69-69-67-275. Thomson picked up $1,500 second prize money.

Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., rallied for 68 in the final two rounds to take third place money of $1,200 with a 278.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, had a seven-under-par 65, lowest round of the tournament, Sunday to tie the Walter Burkemo for fourth at 279. Burkemo, from Franklin Hills, Mich., had a final round 68. Each received $950.

Regalado Aiming At Indian Position

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Rudy Regalado, one of the last of the Cleveland Indians to sign, showed up at training camp here with the declaration: "There's a job open, and I'll give it my best shot."

The job is at third base, vacated by the retirement of Al Rosen.

Rudy can hit, but he will have to prove that he can hold down the fielding chore. For the last three years he has been shunted back and forth between Cleveland and the Indianapolis farm club, hitting .250, .269 and .234 for the Indians and .316 and .322 for Indianapolis.

Gross, Post Star As Redlegs Lose

LAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Lefthander Don Gross and slugger Wally Post provided bright spots for Cincinnati's Redlegs Sunday despite a 6-4 exhibition game loss to Chicago's White Sox.

Redleg Manager Birdi Tebbetts said, "It looks like Don Gross will be one of my 'spot pitchers' again this season. He's a cool fellow under fire."

And outfielder Post belted two Redleg homers over the leftfield fence, in addition to a run-scoring single.

Big Ten's Winter Sports Card Ends

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State, Minnesota, Illinois and Wisconsin grabbed off Big Ten championships over the weekend concluding winter sports competition.

Michigan State ended Ohio State's eight year reign in swimming, Minnesota clipped two-time defending champion Michigan for the wrestling title, Illinois maintained its grip in gymnastics with its eighth straight championship and Wisconsin speared the fencing crown.

An appropriately named 2-year-old at Hialeah is Greentree Stable's Frank. He was sired by Tom Fool, horse of the year in 1953.

Lakers Win Another Spot In Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Minneapolis, the granddaddy of professional basketball playoffs, today was ready for its campaign in the 1956-57 National Basketball Assn. post-season competition.

The Lakers, along with Fort Wayne's Pistons and the Syracuse Nationals qualified for the play-off Sunday, leaving only the winner of the New York-Philadelphia Eastern division scramble to complete the six-team set up. The Lakers have won the NBA championship five times. Boston and St. Louis previously gained play-off spots.

Minneapolis defeated the St. Louis Hawks, Western Division leaders, 117-104 Sunday.

The Pistons earned their spot by eliminating the Rochester Royals from contention with a 100-96 victory. Syracuse had to battle to a 94-92 decision over the Eastern Division-leading Boston Celtics. New York captured its face to face meeting with Philadelphia 104-103.

The Knicks are 1½ games back of Philadelphia. New York must defeat the pacesetter Celtics Wednesday while Philadelphia loses its two last games to qualify.

Washington C. H. Elk Bowlers Near Top in National Tourney

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Assn.

VERO BEACH, Fla. — The Dodgers are putting on an encore to their spring training in Japan last autumn by officially going through the routine at this one-time Navy base here and the optimism runs high that the Bums, with or without clowns and a Los Angeles Franchise, will repeat.

Even Skipper Walter Alston, who suddenly has become one of the successful managers in the National league from a nothing start, expresses a confidence note based this year on his pitching, and not the hitting, which was his forecast of a year ago.

Alston isn't the kind to shoot off his trap, even though he now is an amateur trapshooter of note, but he does say that "I'm very optimistic about my pitching with Johnny Podres back and Karl Spooner, looking good in camp and from what I saw of Roger Craig, Fred Kipp and Don Drysdale on the Japanese trip."

I BELIEVE that some of our young pitchers will get better," Alston said in an interview here.

Pitching of Kipp, rookie up from Montreal, and Craig, who was 12-11 with the Dodgers last year, was impressive on the Japanese trip, with Craig winning the most valuable player award over there and Kipp running second.

Podres, hero of the 1955 World Series, is back from the service and he is "throwing with ease," according to Alston.

KEY TO THE BUMS' chances this year could be the "old men." However, Alston isn't worried about that for he has a flock of young minor leaguers available and he is planning a few switches.

Alston already has found out about his squad, however, for he played the key men on the Japanese trip and he knows that if Peewee Reese can't play short he can play third and that Second Baseman Junior Gilliam, described by Alston as "the key to the infield," can play third or the outfield.

Alston said he may use Clem Labine, the reliever, as a starter if needed. Actually, he now has enough starting pitchers in Don Newcombe, Podres, Craig, Carl Erskine, Maglie and perhaps one of the others.

DiBiase Favored

NEW YORK (AP) — Tony DiBiase, 21-year-old college dour, is favored to stretch his unbeaten string to 19 tonight when he takes on Danny Viovenelli in a welterweight 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Dodgers Confident They Can Make It Three Straight League Championships

Roy Campanella's hand appears in the outfield or on third since last year. He's swinging the bat well in camp and if he runs into trouble, John Roseboro, from Montreal, may surprise. Roseboro is one of the fastest men in camp, which would be a switch for the Dodgers never had catchers who could move.

THIRD BASE is one problem. Randy Jackson does a good job at third. Reese played that spot some last year and was as brilliant as he has been at short. And all shortstops but Chico Fernandez can play third so it appears Alston's problem isn't a serious one here.

Gil Hodges, the slugging first sacker, who wowed the customers in Japan, will do no clowning "during the games" according to Alston but Gil might just possibly wind up

Jackie Robinson is gone. Gil played the outfield most of the time on the Japanese trip.

TWO of the choice rookies in the infield, Jim Gentile, up from Fort Worth, and Bob Lillis, from St. Paul, rate high in Alston's pre-season reckoning. Gentile socked 40 homers and batted in 115 runs last season. He also was looked at in Japan.

Most promising newcomer in the outfield is Don Demeter, who smashed 41 home runs to top Gentile at Fort Worth. Demeter slugged in 128 markers. Demeter has a good arm, runs well.

Alston thinks the Milwaukee Braves and Cincinnati Redlegs are the teams to beat, but also figures the St. Louis Cards as having improved considerably.

Technical Assistance Said To Be Best in Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) completed a 30-month study of technical assistance Saturday with the conclusion that "it is the cheapest, most effective" of all foreign aid programs.

Mansfield, chairman of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, voiced this verdict to an interviewer as he and Sen. Hickenlooper made a final report recommending:

1. Continuation of the technical assistance, or Point 4 program, at approximately its present level of around 30 million dollars a year.

2. Continuation of U. S. contributions to the U. N. and the organization of American states for similar work.

They also recommended that Congress reconsider its action of last year cutting the U. S. contribution to the U. N. technical assistance program from 47 per cent to 33-1-3 per cent effective next year.

Mansfield and Hickenlooper said Congress next year should be able to make another cut, but that a cut from 47 to 33-1-3 per cent in one year "would inevitably have deleterious effects on the program."

They said this country might be able to save on the dollar contribution without "crippling the U. N. program" by using foreign currencies which have been accumulating abroad from the sale of surplus agricultural commodities.

The technical assistance program is one in which the United States supplies technicians and other specialized aid to help under-developed countries improve their living and cultural standards.

The Mansfield-Hickenlooper report dealt primarily with Latin America and Africa.

"On the whole, the technical assistance program in Latin America is worth continuing at approximately its present level," they said.

They said there is a tendency in that area for the United States to carry on technical assistance projects after they have passed from the "demonstration" to the "operational" stage, however, due in part to "the reluctance of local governments to accept full responsibility for operation of the projects."

"Technical assistance in the field of labor," they said, "could well be expanded substantially" primarily through an increase in the number of labor leaders brought to the United States on training grants to help boost industrial productivity.

The typical country program in Latin America costs from one to two million dollars a year, the report said. And it said of the cost of Point 4:

"This is, on the whole, money well spent. Individual projects by and large seem to be technically sound and well administered. Many of them have been highly successful, not only in the technical sense of improving standards of living and promoting economic development but also in the broader sense of encouraging United States trade, increasing opportunities for private investment, and improving United States political relations."

Any substantial curtailment, it said, "would have unfavorable political and economic repercussions disproportionate to the amount of money involved and would reduce the possibilities of productive work in the future."

As for Africa, the senators recommended U. S. readiness to increase its programs there within the limits of each country's capacity to absorb them.

"By no means the least of the new needs for technical assistance is the broad field of public administration, the day-to-day tasks of managing a government and making it work," said the report.

"This is a field in which national sensitiveness is acute and in which multilateral assistance tends to be more acceptable than bilateral aid. It is a field, in short, in which more is likely to be accomplished through the United Nations than by the United States acting alone."

Woman Is Held In Dynamite Plot

SELDEN, N. Y. — A mother of three children is under mental observation after a plot to dynamite her husband for his $5,000 insurance.

Mrs. Elvira M. Hough, 35, was committed to Central Islip, N. Y. State Hospital. Police said she tried to hire a man to rig up a dynamite charge on the family car which would kill her husband, William Hough, 31.

The other man involved, Oscar Farrell, 52, told authorities.

The husband, a crane operator, was stunned by the scheme.

"I just can't believe it," he said. "I thought the police were joking when they told me."

War Vet, 109, OK After Operation

PENSACOLA, Fla. — A 109-year-old veteran of the Civil War had a jaunt appraisal of himself as he left a hospital here for home four days after an operation.

"I'm just like a racehorse, feeling good and going wherever they carry me," said William A. Lundy as he set out for his home near Laurel Hill, Fla.

Lundy's physician agreed that the old soldier was in fine fettle. Lundy underwent an operation to correct an infection of the prostate gland.

Sunshine Does It Again

BY RAY BRANDENBURG

Monday morning we left San Juan for St. Thomas Virgin Islands, only a thirty minute flight.

We tried to rent a car at the airport and was told none available for three or four days. I stopped at the first dealer, cried on his shoulder, told him I was a dealer and my wife couldn't walk much. After brushing away a tear, he said, "I'll help you out, and he did. He says, the only car I have available is our extra we use in case of a breakdown. It was a 1950 DeSoto. I said if you'd drive that car up to trade, I'd look upon it with a frown, but I never saw a car look better to me today. So we are DeSotizing about the Virgin Islands of St. Thomas.

I understand we purchased this island and some others from Denmark in 1929. The population of the city Charlotte Amalie is about 13,000 and the entire island 15,000. The shops are very picturesque. You can buy anything. The streets are very narrow. There is a narrow alley between the shops and you can walk out of one into another with just a few steps. Of course, our women dragged us along and I was in more shops than I've been for sometime.

We went deep sea fishing today. Of course the wind got strong and the sea was rough. Sam and Clara Marting, John Schoedinger and myself were on the boat and we had a lady skipper. A few nice Kings and a big grouper was the extent of our catch. Nothing to brag about.

There are seven U. S. Naval ships in the harbor and two submarines. I think they sent the U. S. Navy down to see we didn't get into any trouble.

A very common sight is the burro or pony with a basket strapped on either side filled with various things, from kids to sweet potatoes.

On our trip around Puerto Rico, we saw a couple of dressed or undressed pigs on display. Each had a small pole run entirely through it and leaning in front of the little store. Also they had been salted, we didn't eat any pork for dinner that night. Also saw plenty of pigs taught to lead.

Today we visited Blue Beard's Castle, a nice hotel at the top of the mountains. Legend says that Bluebeard lived here. I can't swear to that, but I can say we had a dandy lunch.

We then started on a ride up the mountain and around the island. You guessed it, the clutch went out of the old DeSoto before we got to the top. We pushed it and got turned around and coasted down the hill and got partway back to our hotel and it completely stopped. So I had to call Brandenburg's wrecker, but couldn't find Ben.

Just another reason for going out to Brandenburg's and getting one of those smooth, powerful Powerglide or Dynaford jobs that will take you any place you want to go.

So long for now, got to go swimming.

Elmer Haymaker Now Recovering From Fall Injuries

Elmer Haymaker, 47, who was seriously injured in a fall from the haymow of the barn on his farm on the Devalon Rd. last Wednesday, today had recovered sufficiently to have visitors at Memorial Hospital here.

Mrs. Haymaker said Monday morning that he "had a good night last night and is now able to have visitors." At the hospital his condition was said to be satisfactory.

Describing the accident, Mrs. Haymaker said her husband had gone up in the haymow about 8:30 a. m. to throw down some hay and was on top of the bales which were stacked nearly to the barn roof when the bale on which he was standing turned. He lost his balance, she said, and fell through an opening about 5 feet square in the haymow floor. She said she believes he hit the side of the opening, and possibly the ladder up through it, and then tumbled on down to the concrete ground floor, about 20 feet below.

Jack Blair, who was working nearby, heard the noise but thought at first it was only bales of hay falling. Perhaps five minutes later, he found Haymaker on the floor unconscious.

He took him to the house and Mrs. Haymaker took him to the hospital.

Among his injuries are eight shattered ribs, severe bruises and sprains.

Oil Pipeline From Iraq Is Pumping again

LONDON (AP)—A spokesman for the Iraq Petroleum Co. said today oil has started flowing again from Iraq through a repaired pipeline across Syria to Banias on the Mediterranean coast.

He added that pumping through the company's other two pipelines across Syria was expected to begin "in a day or two."

"The 30-inch pipeline to Banias is the newest of the three and therefore was in better condition and needed less repairs. We have heard officially that pumping through this pipeline has actually started."

The IPC spokesman was commenting on a statement by its representative in Damascus that oil would start flowing through the pipelines within 48 hours. The flow stopped when IPC installations in Syria were sabotaged Nov. 4, a few days after British-French forces began the invasion of Suez.

Two other pipelines, one 16 inches and the other 12 run through Syria to the Mediterranean at Tripoli.

"Before Suez we used to pump 25 million tons a year across Syria. That means we should be pumping about 40 per cent of our normal output as soon as the other two pipelines are working. We have no knowledge in London of any change in this estimate."

New Dam Reservoir Starting to Fill

THE DALLES, Ore. (AP)—The huge, government-built The Dalles Dam choked off the Columbia River for 4½ hours Sunday to create a reservoir that eventually will add more than a million kilowatts to the nation's power.

Power production will begin at the $260 million dam in November. At first it will be 156,000 kilowatts. By 1960 it will reach its planned 1,020,000 kilowatts.

The potential is 1,716,000 kilowatts. That would make it second in the nation only to Grand Coulee Dam, another in the series of government dams in the Columbia Basin. Grand Coulee produces 1,974,000 kilowatts.

instructor, said they thought their groups did pretty well.

Hurd said: "We've never sent any one from here before and for a first-time performance, this seems pretty good."

Neumann observed that only two of the WHS entries had ever attended the festival before and that he considered the output "pretty good work."

PLACING FIRST from WHS were pianist Janice Gillen, baritone player Roger Thornburg, a flute trio made up of Mary Jane Limes, Nancy Dray and Hannah Case, and a brass ensemble including Doug Rider, Bob Burris, Joan Knisley, Judy Preston, Nancy Reno, John Rhoad and Bob Moats.

Second-placers from Jeffersonville were cornetist Donald Baird and alto sax player Michael Jenks.

Ranking second from Washington C. H. were Judy Lundberg on the clarinet; Blain Rice trumpet; a clarinet trio including Judy Lundberg, Paulette Pennington and Paula Slagle; a trumpet trio of Blaine Rice, Duane Callender and Jerry Crissinger; and a double clarinet trio made up of Jean Gilmore, Jack Witherspoon, Mary Ann Barr, George Naylor, Jean Hamilton and Betsy Vollette.

Third placers from WHS were Duane Callender, trumpet; Kay Minshall piano and Ronnie Coffman, piano.

The festival to be held in Bexley is the same one that was held here last year when about 1,000 high school musicians from throughout the state descended on Washington C. H. for a weekend of music.

National Guard Has New Plans

Shorter Action Duty Time Called for

Shorter terms of service but more universal active training are called for in new National Guard personnel programs, effective April 1.

Warrant Officer Robert Goodson said the new programs will allow the average young man to get his military commitments filled more quickly than previous programs would have.

Young men between 17 and 18½ may enlist for 11 weeks' active training, then agree to stay in the National Guard until age 28 under one plan for fulfilling service commitments, Goodson said. The 11 weeks must be taken before the enlistees reach 18½, unless they are still in high school, Goodson said. High school enlistees can wait until they are graduated to take the training.

Under another program, young men between 17 and 18½ can enlist for six months' active duty and three years in the ready reserves. Men over 18½ and under 25 can enlist in a similar program calling for six months' active duty and 5½ years in the ready reserves.

Men from 26 to 35 can enlist for three years' ready reserve duty and no active duty, if they wish, Goodson said. Men in this group may volunteer for active duty if they care to, he added.

Commissioners Trim Loads on Post Rd.

A resolution was passed by the Fayette County Board of Commissioners Monday morning, requiring a reduction of 35 per cent in the legal weight limit of truck loads on the Post Rd., No. 123 in Madison Township during the spring season.

The action was taken because of an unusual amount of truck hauling of road material on the road at this time due to other road improvements being made in that region.

The resolution was passed, the commissioners said, for protection of both the road and its bridges during the present wet season.

Robert Cockerill and Ralph Minnow were present for Monday's session but the other commissioner, Cliff Hughes, was absent on a trip to another state. Only routine business and approval of bills occupied the board's attention Monday.

Newsman Getting Jetliner Flight

SEATTLE (AP)—William Allen, president of Boeing Airplane Co., told newsmen boarding a 707 jet airliner for a possible four-hour coast-to-coast flight today they were headed for "the greatest experience of your lives."

The 707, which flies at 550 to 600 m.p.h., was scheduled to take off from Boeing Field for a nonstop, 2,230-mile speed run to Friendship International Airport 10 miles south of Baltimore.

More than a year ago the 707 flew to Washington, D. C., in 3 hours and 58 minutes, aided by strong "jet streams" or high altitude winds.

Chamber's Rap At School Bill Hit by Folsom

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Folsom says the U.S. Chamber of Commerce has made "seriously misleading and inaccurate statements" in opposing federal aid for school construction.

Folsom, a former director of the business organization, in turn was accused by a Chamber spokesman of "advocating the principle of federal surveillance over" U. S. state school systems.

A House Education subcommittee is considering an administration bill which would provide $1.3 billion in federal aid for school construction over the next four years. The Chamber has called such a program "unwise."

Folsom, in a letter to John S. Coleman, president of the Chamber, said "there is no sound or justifiable basis" for a chamber charge that "federal aid advocates obviously are attempting to establish the principle of federal financing and control from which they can leap into actual control of the schools."

Folsom said, "The proposed legislation specifically prohibits any federal direction, supervision or control over the personnel, curriculum or program of instruction of any school or school system."

50 Ohio Farmers Flying to Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fifty Ohio farmers fly into Washington today to talk farm problems with their congressmen and Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The farmers are members of the Ohio Farm Bureau, which has been sending such a delegation to Washington annually for the last 50 years.

As it happens, the Ohioans are arriving during a crisis for farm legislation. The house is engaged in debating the most important bills of this type for the session—the attempt to provide emergency legislation to reduce overproduction of corn and other feed grains.

Robert M. Chase, 26, of Columbus, was fined $20 and costs in Municipal Court Monday morning on a reckless driving charge resulting from a mishap in which his car skidded off Route 70 and into a fence on the farm of the late William Campbell. Chase's car also hit a telephone pole.

Ten dollars of his fine was suspended, provided he make restitution within a week.

An auto owned by Charles Fredrick Lanners, 22, of Troy, went out of control while parked and sailed driverless into a doorway at the rear of 115 S. Main St. Saturday morning. Lanners had parked the car in the alley, and told police his emergency brake must have slipped. He was not held.

Elmer Haymaker Now Recovering From Fall Injuries

Elmer Haymaker, 47, who was seriously injured in a fall from the haymow of the barn on his farm on the Devalon Rd. last Wednesday, today had recovered sufficiently to have visitors at Memorial Hospital here.

Mrs. Haymaker said Monday morning that he "had a good night last night and is now able to have visitors." At the hospital his condition was said to be satisfactory.

Describing the accident, Mrs. Haymaker said her husband had gone up in the haymow about 8:30 a. m. to throw down some hay and was on top of the bales which were stacked nearly to the barn roof when the bale on which he was standing turned. He lost his balance, she said, and fell through an opening about 5 feet square in the haymow floor. She said she believes he hit the side of the opening, and possibly the ladder up through it, and then tumbled on down to the concrete ground floor, about 20 feet below.

Jack Blair, who was working nearby, heard the noise but thought at first it was only bales of hay falling. Perhaps five minutes later, he found Haymaker on the floor unconscious.

He took him to the house and Mrs. Haymaker took him to the hospital.

Among his injuries are eight shattered ribs, severe bruises and sprains.

Oil Pipeline From Iraq Is Pumping again

LONDON (AP)—A spokesman for the Iraq Petroleum Co. said today oil has started flowing again from Iraq through a repaired pipeline across Syria to Baniyas on the Mediterranean coast.

He added that pumping through the company's other two pipelines across Syria was expected to begin "in a day or two."

"The 30-inch pipeline to Baniyas is the newest of the three and therefore was in better condition and needed less repairs. We have heard officially that pumping through this pipeline has actually started."

The IPC spokesman was commenting on a statement by its representative in Damascus that oil would start flowing through the pipelines within 48 hours. The flow stopped when IPC installations in Syria were sabotaged Nov. 4, a few days after British-French forces began the invasion of Suez.

Two other pipelines, one 16 inches and the other 12 run through Syria to the Mediterranean at Tripoli.

"Before Suez we used to pump 25 million tons a year across Syria. That means we should be pumping about 40 per cent of our normal output as soon as the other two pipelines are working. We have no knowledge in London of any change in this estimate."

New Dam Reservoir Starting to Fill

THE DALLES, Ore. (AP)—The huge, government-built The Dalles Dam choked off the Columbia River for 4½ hours Sunday to create a reservoir that eventually will add more than a million kilowatts to the nation's power.

Power production will begin at the $260 million dam in November. At first it will be 156,000 kilowatts. By 1960 it will reach its planned 1,020,000 kilowatts.

The potential is 1,716,000 kilowatts. That would make it second in the nation only to Grand Coulee Dam, another in the series of government dams in the Columbia Basin. Grand Coulee produces 1,974,000 kilowatts.

National Guard Has New Plans

Shorter Action Duty Time Called for

Shorter terms of service but more universal active training are called for in new National Guard personnel programs, effective April 1.

Warrant Officer Robert Goodson said the new programs will allow the average young man to get his military commitments filled more quickly than previous programs would have.

Young men between 17 and 18½ may enlist for 11 weeks' active training, then agree to stay in the National Guard until age 28 under one plan for fulfilling service commitments, Goodson said. The 11 weeks must be taken before the enlistees reach 18½, unless they are still in high school, Goodson said. High school enlistees can wait until they are graduated to take the training.

Under another program, young men between 17 and 18½ can enlist for six months' active duty and three years in the ready reserves. Men over 18½ and under 25 can enlist in a similar program calling for six months' active duty and 5½ years in the ready reserves.

Men from 26 to 35 can enlist for three years' ready reserve duty and no active duty, if they wish, Goodson said. Men in this group may volunteer for active duty if they care to, he added.

Commissioners Trim Loads on Post Rd.

A resolution was passed by the Fayette County Board of Commissioners Monday morning, requiring a reduction of 35 per cent in the legal weight limit of truck loads on the Post Rd., No. 123 in Madison Township during the spring season.

The action was taken because of an unusual amount of truck hauling of road material on the road at this time due to other road improvements being made in that region.

The resolution was passed, the commissioners said, for protection of both the road and its bridges during the present wet season.

Robert Cockerill and Ralph Minton were present for Monday's session but the other commissioner, Cliff Hughes, was absent on a trip to another state. Only routine business and approval of bills occupied the board's attention Monday.

Newsman Getting Jetliner Flight

More than a year ago the 707 flew to Washington, D. C., in 3 hours and 58 minutes, aided by strong "jet streams" or high altitude winds.

Chamber's Rap At School Bill Hit by Folsom

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Folsom says the U. S. Chamber of Commerce has made "seriously misleading and inaccurate statements" in opposing federal aid for school construction.

Folsom, a former director of the business organization, in turn was accused by a Chamber spokesman of "advocating the principle of federal surveillance over" U. S. state school systems.

A House Education subcommittee is considering an administration bill which would provide $1.3 billion in federal aid for school construction over the next four years. The Chamber has called such a program "unwise."

Folsom, in a letter to John S. Coleman, president of the Chamber, said "there is no sound or justifiable basis" for a chamber charge that "federal aid advocates obviously are attempting to establish the principle of federal financing and control from which they can leap into actual control of the schools."

Folsom said, "The proposed legislation specifically prohibits any federal direction, supervision or control over the personnel, curriculum or program of instruction of any school or school system."

Columbus Mayor Keeps Mum On Reported $50,000 Bribe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Did someone try to bribe Columbus Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner to lift the city's ban on extending sewage and water service beyond the city limits?

Various officials including City Council and the Franklin County prosecutor have been trying to find out ever since the mayor told a businessmen's luncheon group Feb. 5 that he was offered $50,000 to relax the sewer and water freeze.

"Bribe," yelled City Council and the hunt was on.

Council formed a special investigating committee to look into the affair. County Prosecutor Samuel L. Devine opened his own investigation and for a while there was talk of taking the matter to the grand jury.

Mayor Sensenbrenner at first seemed surprised by the furor and then declined to discuss it. He has steadfastly refused to name the person or persons who reportedly made the offer. And in a recent letter to Devine he denied that such an offer had been made.

Devine ended his investigation when he received Sensenbrenner's letter. The mayor said he felt the letter closed the incident.

Friday Council issued a statement challenging Sensenbrenner to publicly deny his statement about the offer. The statement read, in part:

"If there is no truth in the mayor's statement that he was offered $50,000 and had it (the money) in his hand, then the mayor should say so publicly.

"However, if an offer was made, he has an obligation to the citizens of Columbus to name the party making the reported offer."

When newsmen asked if he intended to answer Council's challenge, Mayor Sensenbrenner smiled and walked away.

Although chow mein is a true Cantonese dish, chop suey originated in the United States. It is made on the same principle as native Chinese dishes.
